THE ELECTION.

FAYETTE COUNTY OFFICIAL.

[Special Dispatches to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, October 16, 1869.

The official majority for Packer in this county is 889. The return from Dunbar township, giving a Democratic majority of 183, was not made out according to law. It was not certified to or signed by any of the election officers, and did not state when, or in what township, county or State the election was held, yet it was accepted by the Convention of Return Judges held here Friday, as a reliable statement of the number of votes cast in that township. Schnatterly the Democratic candidate for Assembly received only 573 majority, running behind the State ticket. ST. JOHN.

LAWRENCE COUNTY—OFFICIAL.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., October 16.—The official vote of Lawrence county is as follows: John W. Geary, 3,217; Asa Packer, 1,492; majority, 1,725. Henry W. Williams, 3,194; Cyrus L. Pershing, 1,576; majority, 1,718.

THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, October 16, 1869.

OFFICIAL REPORTS.

Several chiefs of Department bureaus have already completed their annual reports and forwarded them to the proper heads of departments. Others are now engaged in the same work. The Cabinet officers have made little, if any, progress in the preparation of annual reports.

APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments were made to-day: Henry C. Myers, Register of Land Office at Natchitoches, Louisiana. Postmasters—Frederick D. Turner, at Carson City, Nevada, vice B. F. Small, suspended; James D. Wood, Central City, Colorado, vice Samuel A. Buell, suspended; Peter Grabb, at Kenton, Ohio, vice Augustus Treger, suspended.

CABINET MEETING.

A Cabinet meeting was held to-day merely for the transaction of ordinary business. All the members were present excepting the Secretary of War.

MONETARY.

Receipts of fractional currency for the week $1,132,700; shipments $778,700; amount destroyed $226,700.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 16, 1869.

The following correspondence between Robert Bonner and General Grant is published:

"NEW YORK, October 11, 1869.—My Dear General:—As I stated to you immediately after your election, that there was no office which I desired, either for myself or any friend, I have had no occasion to write to you in regard to such matters. There is a matter now, however, that concerns you personally, and in which I feel that I discern your interest so plainly, that I take the liberty to write to you with reference to it. I do this with less hesitation because you did me the honor, after your election, to confide to me pretty fully your views.

In the present disturbed state of the public mind concerning the recent gold combination, is it not the quickest and surest way to set at rest the great excitement and uneasiness which prevail, for you to make a brief denial, over your own signature, of all foreknowledge of that combination, in order to relieve yourself entirely from all responsibility for the acts of others? Of course those who know you personally do not require such a disclaimer; but the great public, whose minds are liable to be warped by the determined and persistent efforts to injure you, will be, it seems to me, at once satisfied, and quieted by such a statement. "Sincerely yours,

"ROBERT BONNER.

"President Grant."

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 13, 1869. —Robert Bonner, Esq:—Dear Sir: Your favor of the 11th inst. is received. I have never thought of contradicting statements or insinuations made against me by irresponsible parties, as those alluded to in your letter, but as you have written to me on the subject in so kind a spirit, I will say that I have no more to do with the late gold excitement in New York City than yourself, or any other innocent party, except that I ordered the sale of gold, to break the ring engaged, as I thought, in a most disreputable transaction. If the speculators had been successful, you would never have heard of any one connected with the Administration as being connected with the transaction. Yours, truly, U. S. GRANT.

"P. S.—I have written this in great haste, and without exercising judgment as to the propriety of writing it; but I submit it to your judgment.

U. S. G."

The Herald's Washington special contains the following: A short time since, a statement appeared in the Washington correspondence of the Herald that an agent of the great banking firm of Rothschilds had arrived in this county, and submitted an offer to loan the Government all the money they required to liquidate the debt at an interest of four per cent. The truth of this statement has been reflected upon by nearly all your contemporaries. I have to day seen a letter proporting to be from M. Friquet, dated New York, to a friend in this city, in which he makes use of the following language: "The proposition and correspondence relative thereto has been conducted by me direct with the President at his request. The public announcement in the Herald was evidently the result of jealousy on the part of the Secretary of the Treasury, who had not been consulted in the matter. I return to France to-morrow, but yet believe the matter will be successfully carried out."

It is stated that the old Board of Directors of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway have been re-elected.

Wells & Fargo and the United States Company have combined to perform the express business over the Pacific Railroad.

There was a remarkably lively time in the Gold Room this morning, and considerable excitement among the members in consequence of the exciting speech made by Mr. Jordan upon the financial condition of the Gold Exchange Bank. He charged that but for legal measures, the concern would have settled with the creditors a week ago, and that an injunction from Messrs. Unger & Co. now stood in way of a settlement. The Bank had determined to stand a loss of $260,000 in order to go on, and deserves more liberality and consideration from the public. Mr. Jordan also said, with an emphatic oath, that if the Gold Exchange Bank had not advanced $4,000,000 to the street during the recent panic all the brokers would have been ruined, and several banks would also have gone to the devil. [Much confusion here ensued, and cries of "put him out" followed.] If the bank management had not acted like fools, brokers would have settled at the Exchange Clearing House until their matters had been arranged. He promised within three working days to pay 15 to 25 per cent., but they must give him a fair start. He neither intended to rob or plunder, but deal fair as man to man, and would report the names of any parties who attempted to prevent or interfere with him in arranging a settlement. [Voices: That's right, &c.] Mr. Unger attempted to call Mr. Jordan to order. A member proposed that Jordan give some facts in regard to the condition of the bank. Mr. Jordan said he would do so. That the bank was solvent, and brokers would be very foolish to go back on the bank now. He had never before made a speech, and if he had used unfortunate language, it was because he was too mad to choose his language. He must delay in the settlement to the Anger firm the legal restrictions, and they would repudiate the claims of no person whatever; and if brokers went back on the Gold Exchange Bank they were too mean to live. Here Mr. Jordan withdrew, and then the metting broke up. At a meeting of the creditors of the Bank in the afternoon, a very full discussion of the situation took place, and the action of Mr. Anger was generally deprecated. The feeling of all present was in favor of giving Mr. Jordan a fair chance. To this end, a paper was drawn up to the effect that those signing it would take no legal steps toward forcing the Bank into bankruptcy for ten days. This was signed by all present, and a committee of five appointed to circulate it among the creditors generally for signature. It is believed that at least 95 per cent. of the creditors of the Bank will sign it. During the meeting it was announced that the injunction against the Bank had been so modified as to allow the receiver to collect money due the Bank, and affect settlements in all cases where he could do so advantageously for the Bank. The action of the Court met with general favor.

It is said the liabilities of Lindsay, Chittick & Co., whose suspension has been announced, will reach half a million in gold, mostly due in Europe.

The Central and Hudson River roads will be finally consolidated on the 1st of November.

The Congressional Committee on Navigation Interests closed its session here to-day. After hearing important statements from A. A. Low, Messrs. Spafford, Howland and Nesmith, all largely connected with the shipping and commercial interests; from George Opdyke, Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chairman stated that it was the purpose of the Committee to address circulars to the Board of Underwriters and associations, and individuals prominently connected with shipping interests, requesting written communications on the subject of inquiry. The Committee meet in Boston on Monday next.

A special cable dispatch from London yesterday states that a numerously attended meeting of the Alliance Israelite Universal Society has been held in Berlin. The principal subjects considered was the severe distress just now prevailing among the Israelites in Western Russia and the prospective emigration of Jews from that part of the world to America. Resolutions expressing the hope that their people in America will co operate, steadily and with their accustomed liberality, with their brethren in Europe, in relieving this distress, was unanimously adopted.

Mob Law Rampant—Three Men Killed—Others Warned to Leave.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, October 17.—A disgraceful shooting affair occurred at Taylorsville Warnock county, Indiana, on Sunday resulting in the death of two if not three men. The difficulty was between two men named Springston on the one side, and two named Clark on the other, in which Harvey Springston was killed, and his brother Abe so badly wounded that he died soon afterward. Harvey Springston was recently pardoned out of the penitentiary. The difficulty originated in a dispute about the settlement of some accounts. Shortly after the shooting, a number of the citizens, who compose a self-constituted vigilance committee, proceeded, armed and equipped, to the residence of Moss Rice, who had been warned to leave the neighborhood by the 20th inst., and fired several shots, frightening him so bad that he cleared out in a hurry, leaving the neighborhood. The Springstons are said to belong to the Vigilance Committee. Another of the Rices who had been warned to leave, but paid no attention to the warning, was found dead in the woods near the town, shot and the Whitingshills—father and son—who refused to take any part either for or against the Committee, were also warned to leave the neighborhood. A terrible state of affairs exists. A law-abiding people seem to be paralyzed.

Spanish Priests Intercede for the Insurgents Without Avail—Spanish Insurgents Must Surrender at Discretion—Surrender of the City of Valencia—Sittings of the Cortes Suspended—President Lopez's New Line of Defense—The Allies Unable to Continue the Pursuit—The "Review" on Fenian Affairs—Foreign Markets and Miscellany.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SPAIN.

MADRID, October 15.—The Archbishop of Valencia, attended by an influential deputation, acting on behalf of the insurgents lately and still in arms in that city, and within the limits of the Episcopal See, has just sought an interview with the officer in command of the Government troops operating in the district. The Archbishop interceded in behalf of the insurgents, and in support of the authorities making terms with leniency towards them. When the deputation retired, a general military council was held, at which the subject was debated. It was finally decided that the insurgents must all surrender at discretion.

The sessions of the Cortes have been suspended.

PARIS, October 16.—A dispatch from Madird states that the Republican leaders, Soloochea and Paul, are in the neighborhood of Malaga, proclaiming the Republic.

LONDON, October 16.—A Madrid letter published here, states that the railroads and telegraph lines are destroyed for a great distance around that city.

Valencia still holds out against the National troops. The attack, however, will begin this evening unless the insurgents surrender unconditionally. In the meantime the insurrection at Bengal continues.

Two Republican bands in Catalonia and Andalusia have been beaten by the National troops.

The Cortes have given the necessary authority for the prosecution of the seventeen Republican deputies who have participated in the rebellion.

LONDON, October 17—A dispatch from Madrid contains the following particulars of the surrender of Valencia. Gen. Prim, by telegraph, ordered the General commanding the troops before Valencia, to attack the city, and yesterday morning the artillery opened a heavy fire on the rebel positions, producing much effect and causing great damage to property. The insurgents offered to surrender on condition of receiving their liberty, but this was refused. The assault was then continued with vigor until the surrender of the insurgents. The General commanding reports that the insurrection has been completely suppressed, and the troops now hold the entire city. Many houses were burned during the fight, and a large number of rebels were captured with arms in their hands previous to the attack. The clergy exhorted the insurgents to yield, but without effect.

Arrests continue to be made of leading republicans in Madrid.

MADRID, October 17.—The insurgents at Valencia, after the battle yesterday, which lasted several hours, surrendered unconditionally. Their leaders have disappeared, but are believed to be secreted in the city or vicinity. The Government troops now occupy the city.

The sittings of the Cortes were suspended without the appointment of a day for reassembling and it is not known when the session will be resumed.

HAVANA, October 17.—The Spanish mail steamer arrived here to-day from Cadiz. She brought a detachment of Spanish troops, who will immediately join the Spanish army in the island.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, October 15.— The Saturday Review has a lengthy editorial on the Government toward the Fenians now in confinement. The writer, after reviewing the recent arrests and agitation, asks if Mr. Gladstone is prepared to act with vigor and severity in case of a new Fenian rising; or has he calculated the efforts required to cope with treason and galvanise into energetic life the languid spirit of the aiders of the law; or has his unpressionable mobility swerved towards the recognition of the Irish Independence? The supposition is barely credible, not wholly inconceivable. If he should show the faintest leaning in the direction of tampering with treason and traitors, there is an end of his national parliamentiary majority, and his existence as a minister. It is impossible to exaggerate the gravity of the issue to be decided. When the final answer is given to the partizans of amnesty, the power of the Government in Ireland is shaken and awe of the Government is nearly extinct. Let pusillanimous concession be made, and from that moment the very idea of Government will be inseparable from ridicule and contempt.

The Earl of Shaftsbury and Rev. Eli Ward Bowverce Bussey, are organizing an opposition to the appointmeht of Rev. Mr. Temple as Bishop of Exeter.

FRANCE.

PARIS, October 16.—There is a rumor current that owing to the continued illness of Prince de la Tour Davergn, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, he will be compelled to relinquish his office.

The Patrie, in its issue to-day, denies the rumors of a modification of the ministry.

PARIS, October 17.—All the opposition deputies to the Corps Legislatif will meet to-morrow to draw up a manifesto.

Rumors continue to circulate in regard to the modification of the Ministry.

The return of M. Rouher to the Cabinet, with a liberal programme, is spoken of.

The strike of the merchants' clerks is quite general. The clerks held a meeting to day. The proceedings were orderly. Nothing has occurred since the commencement of the movement to call for the inteference of the police.

PARIS, October 17.—Advices received from Paraguayan sources represent that President Lopez has established a new line of defense at San Estanislans, where he has a considerable force of men and plenty of artillery. The allies are unable to contine the pursuit for want of horses and mules, but will resume it as soon as their army is reorganized.

SOUTH AMERICA.

LISBON, October 16.—The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived with war news from Paraguay which is important. President Lopez was being pursued. He had arrived at San Esta Island, and it was thought he was tring to reach Bolivian Territory.

MARINE NEWS.

NEW YORK, October 17.—The steamer City of Antwerp, from Liverpool, has arrived.

Southern Commercial Convention—Closing Proceedings.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 17.—The Committee of nine appointed by the Commercial Convention to wait upon the President of the United States, will assemble in the Willard Hotel parlor, Washington City, on the 1st of November, at 10 o'clock, P. M.

Among the important subjects acted on by the Commercial Committee were the following: The adoption of a report recommending that all cities or towns situated on navigable streams the exportation of which amount to or exceed $10,000 be made ports of entry. The adoption of a resolution to memoralize Congress to aid the proposed line of steamships between New Orleans and Rio Janeiro. The appointment of a committee to report at the Cincinnati Convention on a line of railroad from the Mississippi, at New Orleans, and from Galveston Bay, and the western harbors of Texas to the nearest and most accessible point on the Pacific. The adoption of a resolution authorizing the Committee on Education to report at the Cincinnati Convention. The adoption of the report of the Committee on Harbors, Channels and Bars, of the Atlantic and Gulf ports. The adoption of a resolution providing for a delegation from the Convention to attend the Universal Exposition at St. Petersburg in 1870, and appointing the President of the Convention chairman of the delegation. A reference of a resolution for a committee of five to memoralize Congress to aid in the construction of a railroad from Fort Smith to the Pacific. Reference of a resolution endorsing the cheap transportation and on express charges. The adoption of a resolution authorizing the chairman of the standing committee to memoralize Congress for the establishment of ports of entry.

Philadelphia Contested Elections Decided at Last.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 16. — The Court of Common Pleas in Philadelphia, rendered its decision in the election contests for city and county officers which were instituted over a year ago. The court room was crowded with people of all classes, anxious to hear the final decision on a question which has occupied public attention for so long a time. Two lengthy opinions were read by Judge Brewster, expressing the views of a majority of the Court, and another by Judge Ludlow dissenting from these views. The decision of the majority of the court retains Mayor Fox in office, declaring him elected by sixty-eight votes, while Furman Sheppard, the District Attorney, is thrown out, and Charles Gibbons, the Republican candidate, declared elected by sixty-eight votes. All the other Democratic officials who claimed to be elected last October are ousted, and their places given to the Republican contestants.

After the rendering of the decision in the contested election case, notice was given of a writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court. This will raise the question of the jurisdiction of the Court of Common Pleas only, and will not open any discussion on the merits of the election.

Horrible Accident.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LOUISVILLE, October 16.—Another accident occurred to-day at the Ohio River Bridge, which swells the already numerous lives sacrified in its construction. At 4:30 this afternoon the temporary trestle work being erected between piers sixteen and seventeen, for the purpose of swinging a span, gave way by a jerk of the locomotive used in raising the timber, and six men were precipitated a distance of ninety-five feet. John R. Payne, carpenter, was instantly killed. Jas. Kirby, carpenter, was cut in two and floated over the reefs. Body not recovered. Oscar Gallagher, and Wm. Irvine, laborers, were mortally wounded; Robert Gensley, laborer, and Matt McClure, carpenter, slightly wounded. Payne leaves a wife and child. He was formerly of Cincinnati.

At about two o'clock to-day, John Balkins was walking between piers Nos. 13 and 14 missed his footing and fell a distance of ninety-five feet and was instantly killed.

—A proposition to suscribe $500,000 in aid of the projected Louisville, New Albany and St. Louis Air Line Railroad, was voted upon by the people of Louisville, Saturday, and carried by about 5,000 majority.

Virginia Legislature—The Senatorial Question.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, VA., October 16.—Members of the Legislature are arriving, and the Senatorial question is being agitated. The name of Gen. Mulford, formerly U. S. Agent of Exchange, is now prominent in connection with Judge Pendleton, of Winchester, as the other Senator. Lieut.-Governor Lewis, Franklin Stearns and Gen. Williams are considered the strongest men.

RICHMOND, October 17.—All of the members of the Legislature arrived to-night. The western members are talking about Judge Pendleton as a candidate for United States Senate from that portion of the State, and then casting their votes for the candidate selected by the eastern men. Snowden, of Alexandria, is spoken of by the straight Conservatives. Among the names of prominent men mentioned are Lieutentant Governor Lewis, Judge Pendleton, Franklin Stearns and Gen. Williams. It is believed that at the caucus to-morrow night candidates may be nominated who have not yet been prominent for the place.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 16.—The Arch Bishop of Oregan and the Bishops of Las Angels and Victoria, left here for Rome a few days ago.

—Reliable information has been received that the breaks in the Erie Canal are repaired, and that the water was let into the levels last evening. Navigation will be resumed this morning.

Local Preachers National Convention.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazett.]

CINCINNATI, October 17.—The local preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church organized in National Convention at Trinity Church, this city, by electing for President J. Gatchell, N. J.; Vice Presidents, W. B. Davis, O; E Dawson, Del.; T. A. Goodwin, Ind.; Wesley Stevenson, Maryland; Recording Secretary, W. H. Kinkead, Penn.; Corresponding Secretary, W. B. Ingham, Penna. One hundred and twenty-one delegates are in attendance. A formal welcome was given on Saturday. To-day the local preachers filled the various pulpits in the city and vicinity.

Mammoth Caisson.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, October 17.—The mammoth caisson for the large pier of the Illinois and St. Louis bridge, was successfully launched to-day at Carondolet and was towed a few hours afterward by two steamers to its position in the river in front of the city. It weighs three hundred and fifty tons. The first stone of the pier will be laid in it on Wednesday.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Ex-Gov. Ritter died on Saturday last, in his 90th year.

—The Catholic Bishops of the island of Cuba left for Spain on Saturday.

—John Nesmith, formerly Lieut. Governor of Massachusets, is dead, aged seventy six years.

—Admiral Farragut's condition is greatly improved and his physicians now have strong hopes that he will fully recover his health.

—There were heavy frost and ice at Memphis Saturday night, and it is feared considerable damage has been done to the late cotton crops.

—Gov. Warmouth, of Louisiana, will call an extra session of the General Assembly to meet December 1st, at Mechanic's Institute in New Orleans.

—To day is to be observed in Havana with great eclat by the volunteers. Many banners are to be blessed, and the civic and religious societies will parade.

—Professor Hough, chief of the astronomical department of Dudley Observatory, Albany, predicted that before next Tuesday we might have eight inches rain, and that the water in the Hudson river and creeks will attain even a greater height than in 1857.

—The telegraph report that a vein of excellent coal, eight feet thick, and extending to the northward, had been struck on the immediate line of the Kansas and Pacific Railroad, seventy-five miles east of Denver, and five hundred and sixty miles west of Kansas City.

—The American Christian Missionary Church, numbering now about five thousand persons, will hold their twenty-fourth annual convention in Louisville to-day. About two hundred or more delegates will be in attendance. The proceedings will undoubtedly be interesting and important.

—Information has been received of the destruction, by fire, on Thursday night, of the Louisiana State Seminary, near Alexandria. The library, apparatus, and most of the furniture were saved. The loss is about $140,000, on which there was no insurance. The fire is said to have been the work of an incendiary.

—An Omaha dispatch says reports are received that a government surveying party under Nelson Buck, numbering twelve men, have been massacred about fifty miles south of Fort McPherson. The surveying implements, tools and a portion of the camp equipage used by the party were found. The reports are credited, but lack full confirmation.

—The Haytien war steamer Pequot, one of the vessels recently sold by the Government and purchased by the Haytien authorities, sailed from New York Saturday evening for Haytien waters under the American flag, which she had been flying for the last two days. The reason given is that her officers are afraid of being captured by rebel Haytien cruisers who are on the lookout for her.

Theatres in Italy.

In Italy we see playgoing under a new phase. In France playgoing is a recreation; in Germany it is a habit; in Italy, among the upper classes, it seems to be a social necessity. The theatres are at once the clubs and drawing rooms of Italy. In all the chief cities of the peninsula, but more especially at Naples and Milan, people pay their visits, transact their business, and make their appointments at the theatre. Italians, as a rule, do not receive much at their homes. It is only at Florence and Genoa that the English customs of dinner giving and party-giving prevail to any great extent. Speaking generally, the life which an Italian leads is untidy and uncomfortable. He has no notion of entertaining visitors; looks upon the house as a shelter against wind and rain, dresses in it, sleeps in it, but goes for his enjoyment elsewhere. At Milan, for instance, every man who has £15 a year to spare takes a stall at the Scala and goes there with unvarying regularity every evening. The ladies have boxes which they furnish as they please, some boxes sporting blue curtains, others red, others yellow; which gives the theatre a gay but somewhat tawdry appearance. If a lady boasts many friends, her box is filled with visitors from the beginning of the performance to the end. Between the acts her liveried footman, or footmen, hand round ices, fruit, and coffee; and at the fall of the curtain she and her guests, ten or a dozen in number, will often sup in the small boudoir which is attached to the box. This is a pleasant way of enjoying the theatre, but for married men whose wives have boxes it is a very expensive one. No wonder that after paying the ice bill, the coffee bill, the supper bill, the upholsterer's bill, and the milliner's bill, which the possession of a box entails, an Italian husband has small appetite for dinner-giving. The San Carlo, at Naples, which the Neapolitans call the theatre of the world, was celebrated until recently for its "bench of critics," the terror of singers. These critics were about twenty in number. They were mostly noblemen and journalists having a thorough knowledge of and a refined taste for music. They occupied the entire first row of orchestra stalls and exercised an influence over the performers which is best defined in the words of Malibran, who said that she was obliged to drink champagne before venturing to face them. It was after being hissed by the "bench of critics" at the San Carlo, that Nourrit, the famous French tenor, committed suicide.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A SCANTY MESS.—The regiments are usually so widely dispersed in small garrisons that it is difficult for them to establish anything like regimental messes, such as are usually found in the English army. Yet at one station in Texas quite a respectable mess was formed, and a majority of the officers of the regiment joined it. But, unfortunately for the aspirations of some of the young subalterns, their finances had become so low, and they were so deeply involved in debt, as to be unable to pay the somewhat extravagant mess bills of the large association, and they were obliged to "rough it" by themselves in a more frugal manner, chiefly upon supplies obtained at low rates from the commissary. Indeed, I of heard one lieutenant (but I will not vouch for its authenticity) whose purse became so perfectly depleted at one time that for several weeks he was compelled to subsist upon rice alone. During this period of fasting it unfortunately so fell out that a friend of his from a neighboring post paid him a most unseasonable visit, not having the slightest previous conception or warning of the scanty fare he was destined to encounter. The impoverished lieutenant put the best possible face upon the meagre condition of his larder, and received him with his usual urbane hospitality at about the hour for dinner, when it was too late, however, even had it been in his power, to have made much change in his bill of fare, except to borrow a little mustard from a brother officer, which he imagined might make the rice diet more palatable. The dinner was soon announced, the two friends seated themselves at the pine camp table, when the host raised the solitary cover, and, in a very beseeching way, inquired of his guest if he should help him to rice. The latter, conceiving this dish to be the preliminary course, like "raw oysters on the half shell," replied, 'No, I thank you; I never eat rice." "Then," said the lieutenant, not a little perplexed as to what he should do or say next, and as a desperate dernier resort under the exceedingly embarrassing circumstances, "help yourself to mustard, for if you can get any thing else in this ranch, you are smarter than I am."—Randolph B. Marcy, in Harper's Magazine for November.

AT New Albany, Ind., on Sunday of last week, Wm. R Phelps, General Railroad Ticket Agent, had thrown a number of old letters upon the grate, and while they were burning he threw upon the grate a paper containing half a pound of Epsom salts. Also at the same moment he threw a small phial containing quinine into the fire. As he threw the quinine a most terrific explosion of the salts occurred, scattering the fire all over the room, and emitting a brilliant blaze, which enveloped his face and hands and burned him in a terrible manner, involving, it was feared, the loss of his right eye.

BERGH, the President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has taken the first step for the protection of birds by preventing a "pigeon match" in New York. Bergh thinks that the shooting of pigeons merely for pastime is wanton cruelty, and is to be regarded as a totally different affair from the killing of birds for food.

THE trial of Eugene Salsey, at Indianapolis, last week, for the killing of Julius Black in a bagnio, about two months ago, resulted in a conviction of manslaughter, with the extraordinary penalty of imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days, because he is a minor.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

JOE JONES.

Don't you remember lame Sally, Joe Jones,
Lame Sally, whose nose was so brown,
Who looked like a clam if you gave her a smile,
And went in to fits at your frown?
In the old goose-pond in the orchard, Joe Jones,
Where the goslings are learning to swim,
Lame Sally went fishing one wet, windy day,
And there by mistake tumbled in.

Under old Sim's brush fence, Joe Jones,
That winds at the foot of the hill,
Together we've seen the old camel go round,
Grinding cider at Appleton's mill;
The mill wheel is oxen wood now, Joe Jones,
The rafter fell on to a cow,
And the weasels and rats that crawl round as you gaze,
Are the lords of the cider mill now.

Don't you remember the pig-pen, Joe Jones,
Which stood on the path to the barn?
And the shirt-button trees, where they grow on the boughs,
Which we sewed on our jackets with yarn?
The pig-pen has gone to decay, Joe Jones,
And the lightning the tree overcome:
And down where the onions and carrots once grew,
Grow thistles as big as your thumb.

Don't you remember the school, Joe Jones?
And the master who wore the old wig?
And the old shady nook by the crook of the brook,
Where we played with Aunt Catharine's pig?
Mice live in the master's wig, Joe Jones,
The brook with the crook is now dry—
And the boys and the girls that were playmates then,
Have all grown up ever so high!

STATE ITEMS.

MAD dogs still prevail in Philadelphia.

EDWIN FORREST will be in Erie November 8th and 9th.

VENANGO CITY is entirely free from debt, and has a balance in the treasury.

ROBERT REEDE, an aged citizen of Perry county, died suddenly Monday of last week, while perusing a letter.

WILLIAM SHEAFFER (of Jesse) of Tyrone, Perry county, last week killed a catamount nearly three feet in length.

ERIE is much exercised over the operations of incendiaries, and the Council is urged to increase the reward offered for their apprehension.

THE anti-Temperance men of Erie claim the decrease of Gov. Geary's majority in that city is due to their efforts. The decrease is 350.

THE United American Mechanics in Perry county will parade at Duncannon on the 23d. Harrisburg Councils have been invited to participate.

OIL CITY having been reported $100,000 in debt, the Times denies the fact, and states that the debt, including that for school buildings, is less than $40,000.

GEORGE SHAFER, of Hamilton township, Monroe county, was recently found dead in the woods near his residence, death having been caused by palsy. his age was sixty years.

THE Commissioners of Erie county, from 1862 to 1864, issued scrip to the amount of $227,275, of which the Auditors have destroyed up to date $203,775, leaving $23,000 outstanding.

CONTRACTORS on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad are being put to much expense and trouble by persons starting groggeries in the vicinity of the road, causing tue laborers to neglect their work.

ALDERMAN BILL MCMELLIN, of Philadelphia, was arrested on the 14th on the affidavit of a prominent gentleman, who stated that while conversing with a friend on the sidewalk he was attacked by the Alderman without provocation or cause.

IN Washington borough, on the evening of the 12th, Mr. John Arnold was instantly killed by being struck in the breast with a stone, thrown by some one of a number of intoxicated white persons engaged in pursuing and stoning colored men through the street.

TIME in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been reduced to nine hours each day, except Saturday, when the shops are closed in the afternoon. The employees, therefore, actually work but five days (fifty hours) per week. The working force is also to be reduced ten per cent.

A SHORT time since Charles Wesley Megary, of Milroy, while at work in a saw mill in Clearfield county, had his leg dreadfully crushed by a log rolling upon it, and owing to want of proper surgical attendance in season, amputation of the limb became necessary, but the injured man soon died from the effects of the operation.

THE Democratic roughs showed in strong force at the meeting of the Return Judges in Philadelphia on the 15th, and finding no "Rads" to mash, they set to work pounding each other. Finally a Republican appeared, was instantly assailed, struck on the head, punched in the ribs and then kicked aside to make room for another victim. No arrests.

TUESDAY night of last week, Owen Feeney, employed by the Mine Hill Railroad Company, as signal man, and living with his family in the signal tower on Broad Mountain, in Shuylkill county, was burned to death, with his wife and two children. About midnight, while the family was buried in profound slumber, from some cause unknown the house caught fire from below. The smoke awakened the wife, who, arousing her husband and sister, told them the house was on fire. Mr. Feeney rose, and on opening a door leading down stairs, the flames came in vast volume into the room, enveloping the family, except the sister, who sprang from the second story of the tower. The father, mother and their two little ones were consumed so completely that nothing but the bones of Mr. F., his wife and their eldest child were found next morning—not a vestige of the youngest, an infant, could be discovered.

THEY have had another Brooks case in Philadelphia. Patrick Morley, in the employ of the government, and under the orders of the Collector of Revenue, was attacked on Thursday of last week on the street, by three men, who beat him terribly about the head and face with rakes. Finally one of them stabbed him deep in the back with a butcher knife, and was about to plunge the weapon into him again, when Morley, by this time well-nigh exhausted, managed to elude his murderous assailants. A missile sent after him was well aimed, striking him on the back part of the head and knocking him to the pavement senseless and bleeding, the would-be assassins leaving him to the care of any one who saw fit to carry him away, while they retreated. The police stood idle, as if in colleague with, or fearful of performing their duty by arresting, the parties to the outrage. At a late hour in the night the "detective" force had succeeded in arresting but one of the supposed guilty parties, no less a personage than Owen McCartney, proprietor of the whisky distillery where officer Morley was stationed at the time the attack on him was commenced. The injured man's condition was regarded as precarious.

GENERAL NEWS.

A COLORED Masonic lodge has been organized at Belleville, Illinois.

THE "lightning train" makes but one stop between Albany and New York, at Poughkeepsie.

IT is rumored that the Vanderbilt party has obtained control of the Lake Shore Railroad, which caused the stock to rise to 91.

A TAN-YARD, buried for at least 150 years, was brought to light at Paterson last week, by some workmen digging a sewer.

ANOTHER of the "oldest inhabitants" has passed away. Mr. Johnson Brown, of Madison county, Ind., died on the 10th inst. at the age of 109 years.

A WOMAN in New Bedford, Conn., recently drew the dead body of her infant in its little carriage, to an undertaker's shop in that city, to have it measured for a coffin.

MR. ALDEN, the inventor of the horse shoe improvement and other agricultural implements, was recently caught in the machinery of his shop at Utica and literally cut to pieces.

THE great counterfeit ten dollar greenback may be detected by its inferior length and width; also by the absence of a small dot after the word "United" in "United States."

A DECISION has been rendered in favor of the city of Rochester, and against the Commercial Bank of Rochester, N. Y., in the matter of a claim for the repayment of $50,000 tax levied on bonds.

THE Boston city government used up 176 bottles of champagne wine, besides bottles of stronger liquid, and 1,500 cigars, at a cost of over $2,000, in celebrating the landing of the French cable at Duxbury.

THE Red Stockings base ball club, of Cincinnati, arrived home from the Pacific coast on Saturday. Californians called them the "Bloody Calves." To day they play a game with the celebrated Athletics, of Philadelphia.

EDWARD H. HOPKINS, a man sixty seven years of age, residing in Cincinnati, a few days ago attempted to cut his throat with a pocket knife. He was formerly Chief of Police of the city and had recently suffered much from illness.

HORACE C. PARSONS, a Boston merchant, committed suicide in Northfield, Mass., recently. He telegraphed for his wife and nephew to follow him on the next train from Boston, and shot himself in his brother's barn before their arrival.

A CALCULATION has been made that enough rain fell in Rensselaer and Albany counties, N. Y., on Sunday and Monday of last week, to supply every man, woman and child upon the face of the earth with two and a half gallons of water per day for a year.

A LADY walking on the street in Rochester, New York, last week, discovered her dress to be on fire, and before it could be extinguished by several gentlemen who flew to her succor, quite a large portion of an over-skirt was burned. The fire was thought to have been communicated by some careless smoker.

THE Western States are remarkable for snakes the present year. The Kilbourn City (Wis.) Mirror has an account of the killing, by citizens of that place, of forty-nine rattlesnakes, which had sought refuge under a large stone. Eight of these snakes were four feet long each and had reached the age of between five and seven years.

GENERAL BUTTERFIELD declares that he has discovered that the gold ring were tapping the telegraph wires during the gold panic. They have been tapping them ever since, he says, and have used the information thus obtained to forward their interests in Wall street. The names of those concerned will be given to the press within a few days.

A WORKMAN in one of the railroad shops at Atlanta, Ga., persistently said he had had a revelation that he should die at 12 o'clock on the 12th, and at his request a fellow-workman promised to toll the bell of the works at that hour. The day and the hour came; the man dressed himself in his best and lay down upon his bed to await the speedy coming of the dread messenger; the solemn note of bell was sounded, but the man did not die.

ON the Genessee Valley Railroad, N. Y., on Sunday week, a hand-car, on which were four men and one woman, was coming down from Scottsville, and on a curve met a locomotive. Seeing that a collision was inevitable, the men on the car jumped off; but one of them first seized the woman, who was sitting on the forward end, with her feet hanging over the edge of the platform and threw her down the embankment. None of the parties were seriously hurt.

IN Wheeling, last week, Thomas Tingle, a young man, went into a drug-store, purchased a pound of laudanum, representing it to be for the firm in whose employ he was, and while the bill for it was being made out, he adroitly managed to extract the cork from the battle and swallow about two ounces of the contents. Antidotes and a stomach pump were promptly administered, and the young man's life saved. He was then turned over to the care of his relatives at Columbus, Ohio.

CUES AND NOTES.

LISZT has three oratorios under way at once now.

MORLACCHI and her ballet troupe are in Buffalo this week.

PATTI, while singing at Homburg recently, lost her voice and had to take a rest.

TAMBERLIK, the tenor of the Spanish revolution, will sing in Madrid again this winter.

GOUNOD is hard at work on a new opera, taking Corneille's Polyeucte as a subject.

$40,000 in gold is the price that Nilsen is to receive for singing for two months in England.

DRESDEN utterly refused to tolerate Offenbach's Vie Parisiennne, and it had to be taken off the boards.

EDWIN BOOTH is playing at the Walnut street theatre in Philadelphia, and has his usual immense audiences.

Mozart's Zauberfloete was brought out in Vienna recently with twenty thousand florins worth of new scenery.

THE Mendelssohn Quintette Club is about to start upon a tour to Chicago. Miss Jennie Bask is the vocalist.

MRS. ANN S. STEPHENS has written a new comedy, which is shortly to be brought out at Laura Keene's theatre in Philadelphia.

AN whole orchestra of women with a man as leader, is a successful European novelty, and exemplifies a woman's right and ability to blow.

MRS. SCOTT SIDDONS is said to be still more enchanting this year than last. She is now playing at the Fifth Avenue theatre in New York.

MR. JOSEPH JEFFERSON, a man not unknown to fame, was in Buffalo last week playing a not altogether obscure play called Rip Van Winkle.

RUMOR says that an unpublished opera, called Joan of Arc, has been discovered among some papers of Rossini and will be brought out shortly at Venice.

A DARING composer, named Garzili, has produced a new opera entitled Allessandro Stradella, in spite of the famous work of the same name by Flotow.

RUBENSTEIN, the pianist, has composed a cantata entitled "The Tower of Babel." The confusion supposed to have existed there could be expressed better by a novice upon the piano.

EGBERT F. TEN EYCK, an actor at the Grand Opera House in New York, was arrested on Wednesday night and held to bail in $2,000 to answer a charge of forging army paymaster's checks.

THE King of Bavaria refuses to pay for the gorgeous scenery procured for the production of Wagner's Rheingold at Munich and the great composer of music for his great-grand-children has come to grief.

THE New York circus is back in New York again, and the papers there speak of the various members of that company who made themselves popular here in the summer. The little Melville lad is not dead yet, although he has been imperilled almost nightly ever since.

AUTOGRAPHS of Weber, including a complete partition of an aria belonging to the opera "Oberon," composed expressly for the famous English tenor Braham, are announced for sale in Dresden. They are part of the estate of Herr Gust, a lately deceased amateur.

PERSONAL.

NEW YORK Homeopathists are raising funds to build a monument to the late Dr. Gram.

A BOY of thirteen, living in Modena, Michigan, weighs two hundred and two and a half pounds.

DR. SMAUEL LUCKEY, a well-known Methodist minister, died at his residence in Rochester, N. Y., last week, at the age of sixty-five years.

AN old fellow named Hazlett, of Medina, Michigan, who has lived for fifty-five years in a state of single-blessedness, has married an immature maiden named Celia Oliver, twelve years old.

FRANKLIN PIERCE was the fourteenth President of the United States. There are fourteen letters in his name, and the first letters of the christian and surname being F and P, stand for fourteenth president.

HON. EDWARD MCPHERSON, Clerk of the National House of Representatives, writes from Switzerland, that his health has improved. He will return to America in the steamer Russia, which leaves November 6th.

THERE seems to be no doubt that the so-called Lord Hubert Leroy Ainsley, who married Miss Lilly Martin, a rich and beautiful belle of Staten Island, is an impostor. The father of the bride gave her $100,000 as a wedding present.

THE city editor of the Chicago Post makes the following acknowledgment among his "personals:" The editor of this column acknowledges the receipt this morning, from the authorized source, of a personal item of the masculine persuasion, weighing nine pounds."

MR. SMITH LONGSTREET, a relative of the rebel general of that name, and Mrs. Gildersleeve, the well known authoress, were married in New York city, last week. The wedding was brilliant and a great number of literary people were present, among others Horace Greeley, who appeared in strong clothes, thus described: "Tail coat, kids, white cravat, dancing pumps, a rose in his button hole, a boquet in his hand, and fairly drenched with patchouli. Of course, he created an immense sensation when he kissed the bride."

Extraordinary Case.

In Kane county, Ill., an indictment has been found against Rev. Isaac B. Smith, for the drowning of his wife in the early part of June last. The facts are thus related: At the time stated, Mr. Smith, with his wife, drove in his buggy to attend a ministers' meeting, and in the evening started for the house of his brother-in-law, about two miles from Elgin. About 9½ o'clock he reached the house, in considerable excitement, asking if his wife was there, and saying that his buggy had been overturned in crossing a small stream, he and his wife being thrown out, and as he had not been able to find his wife, after getting out himself, supposed she might have gone on to the house and left him. He said further, that his horse was very headstrong, and when he saw water, would go into it, no matter how hard you might try to turn him—Mr. Smith thus accounting for the overturning of the buggy. He gave detailed accounts of the accident to different persons, alleged to be contradictory in important particulars, and this, with the fact of the horse having been found standing still in the water, with the buggy resting on the side on two wheels, and the body of the woman only ten feet distant, led to investigation. It also leaked out, after Mrs. Smith had been buried, that there was $3,000 insurance on her life, which fact Mr. Smith had concealed from her friends. He also denied there was any more insurance on her life, but closer investigation showing a further accident insurance of $6,000, he admitted his untruthfulness, saying he had concealed the fact through the advice of his father, in order to avoid "talk." After considerable time, the whisperings assumed such a form that the matter was thoroughly canvassed, and the reverend gentleman was believed to have had some agency in bringing about the accident. Public opinion in Kane county is, however, very much divided, the minister's friends being very earnest in their advocacy of his innocence. Dr. J. Shugart, of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company, of Milwaukee, who paid the life policy, says he has known Mr. Smith since his early boyhood, at Princeton, gives him an excellent character for morality, and says he was a protege of Owen Lovejoy, and enjoyed the friendship of Abraham Lincoln. It remains for the trial to sift the facts in this remarkable and distressing case.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays: 12 M. to 3 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The oil market has been somewhat excited during the week which has just closed, and compared with last week prices are higher, though about a ¼ lower to-day than yesterday. The most important and noticable event of the week was the notification by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company of an advance in freight, to take effect on and after Monday next, of fifty-five cents per bbl; as we remarked yesterday, this was not wholly unexpected though it is claimed by the trade that the notice was unusually brief, only forty-eight hours, and, besides, there are those who think the advance most too steep. The greatest objection, however, appears to be in regard to the very short notice, as it has unsettled, and, temporarily it may be, crippled the business and placed many of our refiners and dealers in an embarasing position.

As noticed in our last report, the tendency of the advance in freights will be to advance refined and depress crude, and already the latter has been affected as intimated. Some operators are of the opinion that the advance in freights will cripple the business here during the balance of the season; but as the advance seems to have been general, and is not confined to this place alone, we are in hopes that it will not turn out so badly as some have been led to believe.

Receipts Crude this week, 22,611 bbls; last week, 20,746; from January 1st to date, 692,097; same time last year, 907,960. Exports: refined this week, 16,260; last week, 7,379; January 1st to date, 432,188; same time last year, 548,148; sales this week, 58,000; last week, 3,800.

REFINED.

Sale 2,000 bbls until December 1st, at 14¾. Spot or seller this month, 14¾@14¾; seller all 1869, 14¾; buyer, 15¼. Market quiet and a little weak with a drooping tendency.

CRUDE.

Sale December, at 32¾; 500 each, November and December, at 32¾; and 1,000 buyer all year, at 33¼. The above prices, compared with those of yesterday, show a decline of ¼ of a cent, but at the close this evening the market was firmer, and there were no sellers at these quotations.

RIVER NEWS.

The river, we regret to state, is again receeding at this point with 34 inches in the channel by the marks last evening. Weather yesterday was warm and pleasant, although cloudy and overcast at times, with every appearance of rain. Mercury at 2 P. M. was up to 69 in the shade.

The Belle, from Parkersburgh, arrived and departed on Saturday, with a good trip each way.

The Mollie Ebert, from Cincinnati, was due last evening, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. She will probably depart for Cincinnati again to morrow.

The Glendale is loading for St. Louis, and the Messenger for New Orleans, and will leave on the first rise.

The Kate Putnam will soon be ready for business.

Elsewhere this morning appears the business card of F. Rephan & Co. successors to Morrow & Barnhill and Morrow & Blair, proprietors of the O'Hara Boiler Works. We can commend this new firm to steamboatmen as fully worthy a large share of their business patronage. The senior of the firm has had a quarter of century of experience in the business, and thoroughly understands it in all its departments. Patronage can be no where else better or more worthily bestowed to secure satisfaction.

—The Maggie Hays left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Friday.

—The Tahlequah has resumed her regular trips in the New Orleans and Ouachita trade, under Captain J. W Blanks.

—The Bellevernon arrived at New Orleans on Thursday, and the Mary Davage left there the same day for Pittsburgh.

—The Importer arrived at New Orleans recently from Arkansas river, with, among other articles, 524 bales of cotton.

—The R. E Lee, on her last trip carried into New Orleans the largest freight of the season—3,081 bales cotton and 3,692 sks cotton-seed.

—The Lorena arrived at Memphis on Thursday and the Glasgow left there the same day for Cincinnati, with, among other items, 900 bales cotton.

—Willis Johnston, clerk of the Pittsburgh & Zanesville packet, Julia No. 2, was married at Marietta on Thursday, to Miss Rite Booth, daughter of Capt. Horatio Booth of that place.

—The wreck of the steamer Phantom, which is not so much damaged from the annihilation of the boiler as it was at first supposed, is to be sold at public auction on Thursday, October 21.

—John Nelson, mate of the Sam Hale, and another river man, named Wm. Baber, had a rough-and-tumble on the levee at Memphis, on Monday last. Nelson came out first best, and had to pay five dollars for the fun to ou-traged justice.

—The sunken coalboat at the foot of New Richmond bar, and a snag opposite Chilo, nine feet through at the roots, and fifty-five feet long, which has been a terror to steamboatmen for twenty years, have been taken out of the river by the United States snagboat Greenback.

—It is said that James Fisk, Jr., contemplates building a steamer (to run between New York and Albany) 600 feet long, 60 feet beam, with a 150 inch cylinder, which, when completed, will overtop any steamer in the world in size and magnificence. The boat is to leave New York at eight o'clock in the morning and return the same evening.

—The New Albany Commercial, says: It looks very much like the continued legal pursuit of Captain Josiah Murray is a sort of "set up" affair. Captain M. is a gentleman who has ever borne an excellent reputation, and that he would be guilty of burglary or any other crime, no one who knows him will be inclined to believe. Yesterday he gave bond for his appearance to answer an indictment in the Criminal Court for burglary.

—A St. Louis dispatch under date of Thursday says: A new company has been organized, for the purpose of running a line of steamers between Savannah and St. Paul, to be called the Merchants' Star Line, with Captain Hutchison as manager. The company have bought the Countess, Dexter and G. S. Weeks, of the People's Line. This is supposed by some to be a flank Movement on the part of the White Collar Company, but there does not seem to be any evidence to that effect.

—On the 6th inst. the steamboat Daniel Drew left Albany at 10:25 A. M. with a passenger list of over 400 people, and arrived at Desbrosses street, New York at 5:57. The Drew made all the landings usual to the route, which fact drew from her actual time three fourths of an hour for the tide was high and more than the ordinary time required to enact them. Deduct the forty-five minutes from the full time, and her actual running time is less than six hours—better than twenty-four miles to the hour. On the 7th, the same vessel was timed on her run from Yonkers to Thirty-fourth street, sixteen miles, and she completed the distance in thirty-two minutes. No special preparation was made for the performance of these feats.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation, 437 miles long, upon which it is also a mortgage, NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. Pamphlets, Maps and Circulars furnished on application.

We have a full supply of the above Bonds on hand and for sale, and we take pleasure in recommending them as a very reliable and perfectly safe investment.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for the traveling community.

J. B. HARRIS
Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto, I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

EX-GOV. JOSEPH RITNER died at Carlisle, on the 16th, in the 90th year of his age.

TO-DAY, Treasurer Spinner will commence the daily issue of $70,000 in greenbacks from the new $2 plate.

THE Cuba-Hornet will be condemned. The Government has abundant evidence that she has violated our neutrality laws.

THE friends of HENDRICKS and HOFFMAN are in a very good humor. They read two of the Ps to signify played-out politicians.

THE Richmond Whig is of opinion that the effect of the October eletions will be "the temporary dissolution of the Democratic party as a national organization." But why only temporary? Shall these dry bones ever liye again?

THE New Yorker, a German Democratic print in New York, is "astonished to hear that the German Republicans are enthusiastic for SIEGEL and that a great many German Democrats have resolved to do the same thing." Has our Volksblatt heard of this?

IOTA is surprised by the conversion. Ignatius Donnelly, who only abandoned his support of a protective tariff, and now demands the lowest possible rates of impost. Evidently he imagines that public sentiment in his State inclines the same way. But, unfortunately, the notable politician has not always been found infallible.

THE aspect of public affairs in France is very ominous. GIRARDIN boldly declares, in La Liberte, that "the second Empire is toward the end; its fall is inevitable." Jules Favre and others have taken present refuge in London, but watch over the water, for the crisis which is to free France from its present despotism.

OHIO will ratify the XVth Article. The Republican majority in both branches of her Legislature counts in the Republican half of the successful fusion ticket in Hamilton—and very justly, since these members, during the canvass, repeatedly pledged themselves to support the amendment. There is now but little doubt of its final adoption into the Constitution.

THE result of the Pennsylvania election is a clear proof of the wisdom with which the friends of GEORGE W. CASS claimed the Democratic nomination for that gentleman. He might not have been elected, but he would certainly have made a far better poll than that which gives such a lame certificate to the popularity of the Pride of the Valley.

THE Chicago Tribune is informed "upon the best authority that General BELKNAP, the new Secretary of War, is now and always has been a Democrat, although he may have voted for General GRANT." But the Tribune also learns that the appointment gives entire satisfaction to the Republican neighbors of the new Secretary, in Iowa.

THE official vote of Allegheny, on a portion of the tickets, has been fully counted. The majority for Geary is 4557; for Williams 6506; for Kirkpatrick 6211; for Collier 6294; for Howard 6,163; for Representatives, an average of 5,953; for Sheriff 5616; for Commissioner, McGee 11,611, Dickey 10,228, Bostwick 9455. The aggregate vote polled was about 31,800 or about a three-fourths poll.

THE popular judgment very generally demands the repeal of the new law combining the State, county and township elections. The Return Judges of Erie county, last week, unanimously adopted a resolution of that tenor, declaring that the new law "works confusion without any corresponding benefit, and ought to be repealed at the next session of the Legislature." This is substantially the universal opinion in the State.

THE Republican victory in Ohio is equally of national and local consequence. Securing the last Constitutional Amendment, it also confirms the Republican control of the State and Congressional apportionments, thus ensuring a fair expression of the will of the popular majority upon State and National affairs. The new Legislature, holding office for two years, will elect a U. S. Senator to succeed Mr. SHERMAN, whose time expires in March, '71. The Cincinnati Enquirer—since the election—very frankly observes that "Ohio was never a Democratic State." Clearly, therefore, the continued Republican ascendancy in the Legislature and in the Congressional delegation will be quietly acquiesced in by the opposition.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer persists in regarding Pennsylvania as, at least, a Democratic State and that it might have been so carried last week, "if the financial question had been pressed." Pressing that question in Ohio had such results as to shake our confidence in the Enquirer's judgment. Let that journal appeal to our gratitude, for its generosity in so engineering the canvass at home as to give the Republicans two Senators and four Representatives from its own county for the XVth Article, and its draft shall be honored without any protest. As for the canvass here, the opinion of the Philadelphia Age is vastly more orthodox, since it "regrets to be obliged to say that the defeat is mainly attributable to the neglect of duty and apathy of our friends." This clearly holds good of Luzerne and Philadelphia, if not elsewhere.

THE monstrous election frauds of last October which gave most of the city and county offices of Philadelphia to the McMullin Democracy, have at last been exposed, and the results of the poll reformed in the interests of public justice. The Court of Common Pleas has rendered its decision upon the contested questions, turning all the Democratic intruders out of the offices upon which they had seized, and leaving only the Mayor of Philadelphia, FOX, as holding his place by virtue of an honest election. An appeal has been taken from this decision upon the law-points involved, but no further question is made, by the opposition, touching the facts involved. The Court was ready to pronounce its opinion before the recent election, but deferred its delivery. Judicially, this delay was mere trimming: politically, it was cowardice. The proper and orderly course of public justice should be impeded for no political considerations whatever.

NOTWITHSTANDING that GOV. GEARY has very nearly if not quite 5,000 majority, our Democratic neigbor (see Post 15th) "have every assurance that Mr. Packer is honestly elected. If he be not so declared, it will be because the election returns have been tampered with," &c., &c. If the Democracy of Allegheny have again lost their little wagers, by reason of their misplaced faith in such talk as this, we can only renew those assurances of our sincere sympathy which, under similar circumstances, we have so often heretofore had occasion to extend to them. We are constantly hearing from the interior districts of multitudes of Republicans who have in this way been supplied with hats, boots, overcoats, loads of coal and potatoes, with now and then a greenback, by their too confident Democratic friends. The country Democracy ought ere this to have learned that they would save money by looking to the GAZETTE for their election returns.

AN exchange says:

Pendleton's majority in Hamilton county, Ohio, is 1,305. The Democratic majority on the other State officers in that county is 832, showing that his greenback swindle humbugged 267 Republicans in Hamilton county.

There is other satisfactory evidence also that a considerable number of the business men of Cincinnati, heretofore usually voting with the Republicans, supported Mr. Pendleton last week, in the specific hope that his election would so promote the popular strength of an expected Democratic "reaction," as to favor the speedy adoption of the Pendletonian policy for an increased issue of greenbacks—causing such an expansion of the currency as "would make trade lively" and enhance generally all fictitious values. It is fortunate that this mercantile view of the situation was not accepted by the people of Ohio. We may add, in this connection, that Cincinnati is not the only city where Republican principles have been sacrificed to such selfish considerations. We can think of at least one other great city where a class of citizens, the furtherance of whose solid prosperity eminently demands their cordial and unswerving support to the only party which sustains the just claims of American industry, have more than once been found lending themselves to movements to break down its regular nominations. This taste for disorganization is, naturally, sometimes realized to be unprofitable in the long run. A party, no matter how wisely based and faithfully maintained, cannot always resist the treachery of its pretended friends, or always succeed in its defense of the especial interests of classes who steadily improve every opportunity to paralyze its strength.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The new Senate stands, at present, nineteen Republicans to fourteen opposition. This majority includes, how ever, Mr. Watt, returned, as chosen from the 1st district of Philadelphia, whose election will be contested by his opponent, Mr. Diamond, on the ground of alleged frauds by the Return Judges. If the contestant substantiates his case as it is put by his counsel, he will be clearly entitled to the seat, reducing our Senatorial majority to three.

In the House, where our majority last year was twenty-two, we have lost two members in Huntingdon and one in Franklin, but have gained one in Philadelphia and two—Messrs. Coray and McMahon—in Luzerne. This leaves our majority again the same as last winter.

THE XVTH ARTICLE.

Twenty States have ratified the Amendment, including Virginia, which has not yet filed her certificate, Missouri and Kansas, which have ratified imperfectly, but will correct their acts at their next Legislative Sessions, and Indiana, about the validity of whose action a doubt is entertained in many quarters. Favorable action is also certain to be taken by Ohio, Alabama, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Vermont, Rhode Island, Mississippi and Texas. Without Indiana, this will complete the requisite three-fourths vote of twenty-eight States. It is not unlikely that the reformed situation in Georgia, under the effect of the decision of her Supreme Court in favor of the rights of her colored citizens to hold office, may also result in her ratification of the Article. All the Legislatures yet to act will meet in November, December and January, so that February next will undoubtedly witness the official proclamation, from the State Department, of the final incorporation of this principle of universal equality into the Federal Constitution. This will admit of the needful enactments by our own Legislature before the close of its next session.

THE REPUBLICAN POSITION IN OHIO.

This has been a bad year for Presidential aspirants among the opposition. Mr. ASA PACKER was an aspirant until last Tuesday, but could never be seriously reckoned a candidate. His aspirations are finally extinguished, and not even his friend Judge WOODWARD will have the courage to attempt their revival. Not so with Mr. PENDLETON. He was a formidable candidate against Mr. SEYMOUR, and his claims will be again pressed upon the next Convention of his party with a good deal of urgency. But we concur fully with the New York World, that the results in these two States have swept Packer and Pendleton out of that field. The latter is reminded by the World of his inability to carry his own State, and that a quasi endorsement, in the platform of '68, of his "peculiar financial views" led powerfully to the defeat of Mr. Seymour. These views, says our cotemporary, "cannot be endorsed by any State east of the Lakes and the Alleghenies."

It is probable that Mr. Pendleton's friends will be reluctant to accept this construction of the events of '68 and '69, and that they will spare no exertions to keep him still in the field prominently by an election next winter as a Senator from Ohio. Since this can only be accomplished through the aid of the Republicans elected to the Legislature on the fusion ticket in Hamilton county, Democratic strategy will be directed at once to secure those votes. There will be no delay until the Legislature meets in January; the affair will be prosecuted now. We have great confidence in the political integrity of the Republican members from Hamilton, but it is due to those gentlemen that they should be cordially welcomed and sustained by the Republican party of the State. Whatever issues were clearly made upon local questions in that county, and vindicated by the result at the polls, it will be simply just, as well as manifestly expedient, that the results should be accepted by all our friends in the Legislature. Wise concessions in this direction will leave the political preferences of the Hamilton members wholly unembarrassed by local obligations, and will fortify them against the intrigues of Mr. Pendleton's adherents.

The Hamilton county Republicans hold the balance of power in each Legislative chamber. There is a responsibility in that position from which they ought to be relieved, if it can be done with justice to the Republicans of the State. There is also a danger in their position which will be fully appreciated by those who remember that a balance of power at Columbus has, in the past experience of the State, always occasioned the most mischievous complications. We hope to see the present situation more wisely treated.

A POPULAR RETRIBUTION.

When Senator Turner, (Dem.) of Luzerne, last winter succeeded in defeating, by the aid of all the Senators of his party, and two Republicans, the Republican proposition to extend the humane provisions of what was known as the Schuylkill bill—for the protection of the lives of the coal miners—to all the other mining counties of the State, he and his Democratic friends assumed, as the event proved, the fearful responsibility for that shocking holocaust at Avondale which sacrificed more than a hundred lives, and made many hundreds of widows and orphans—calamities which would have been wholly prevented by the general enactment then proposed. It is fair to presume that the votes of the Democratic Senators, given to ensure its defeat, were so recorded under the solicitations of the great mining corporations which were averse to the expenditure which such a general law would have required for the safety of underground life. And it would be unjust to those Senators to suppose that the occurrence of the Avondale horror, some months later, could have failed to occasion with them the most sincere regrets for the mistake which they had thus made. The votes of Mr. Turner and his Democratic friends were the death warrant of more than one hundred citizens of Luzerne county. These votes would never have been so given, had these Democratic politicians regarded less the interests of a few wealthy companies of employers, and more of their public duty to legislate for the interests of the humbler masses of the people.

It is some weeks since we directed the attention of our friends in the anthracite counties to the fatally serious mistake of Mr. Turner and the other Democratic Senators in the premises. From Luzerne, we now have the popular response: that county, which has always been overwhelmingly Democratic, polling in '68 a majority of 3,428 for that party, now elects Republicans for two of her three Representatives. Had Senator Turner also been a candidate, we can judge from this how he would have fared with an indignant constituency.

Had a more general and effective use been made by our Republican friends, in the press and upon the stump, of these facts, in the other anthracite counties, the popular resentment, which which cut down Packer's majority in Luzerne to 1,000, would probably have stripped that candidate of all or nearly all his present majorities in Lycoming, Lehigh, Wayne, Schuylkill and Carbon. It is safe to estimate that the change could have brought up to at least 5,000 votes against a candidate who faithfully represented the same selfish corporate influences which defeated the humane proposition of last winter. We regret Mr. Turner himself could not have been arraigned by the same avenging Nemesis which last week came so near achieving the local ruin of his party. He may be quite sure, however, that his time will yet come. Until then he is left to contemplate the results already accomplished—not only the hecatomb of human lives which have been sacrificed by his too willing subserviency to the will of a few selfish and powerful monopolies, but the substantial overthrow of his party in one of its old strong holds, and a loss of quite 3,000 majority to its candidate for Governor in all the anthracite counties. And it is clear that this loss might have been doubled at least, if the situation had been properly pressed upon the popular judgment. That is the way that bird came home to its roost!

A dispatch from Hon. JOHN COVODE, dated Saturday night, says:

"We have all the counties officially reported but Butler, Potter and Juniata, and taking these at the figures reported on Thursday evening, Geary's majority is 4,842."

The Potter Journal unofficially states the majority for GEARY, in that county, to be 650. The two other counties were unofficially estimated at 200 for GEARY in Butler, and 365 for Packer in Juniata.

—Jefferson Davis was a passenger on the steamer for New Orleans, from Baltimore, Saturday.

MINOR TOPICS.

FATHER HYACINTHE, since his protest was made, has not been heard from. Being an earnest, quiet gentleman, and having said his necessary say, he remains quiet amid the storm of all sorts of matter which has been raised about his ears. Neither praise nor blame seems to have any effect upon him. He has taken a serious, perhaps a fatal step, and now abides the result. Perhaps it is to avoid unpleasant intrusions that he is coming to America. Unfortunate, ill-advised Father! In France they might have left you in peace until the spring time, when it is natural for hyacinthes to bloom again; but here, what with those forcing glasses, called interviews, whether you utter one word or none, we shall have you blossoming all over with flowers of speech, before you have been a fortnight on our shores.

BASE-BALL is about dead for the year and we congratulate its professors and amateurs on a successful season. The interest evinced in the game has not been such as before, but a larger number of young men seem to have adopted it as a business this year than formerly. More in favor too among the betting classes with its events for making or losing money, it is now almost equal to horse-racing or rowing matches. We hear this year of fewer broken bones and sudden deaths than heretofore, but we are certain of an unusually large supply of crooked arms, legs and fingers among the generations rising and just arisen.

IN THE plan of "Pittsburgh in 1795" Smoky Island is represented as a veritable island, with a boat yard and an orchard upon it. Squatters settled there with their humble homes, and doubtless it has been the scene of births, marriages and deaths. Later, when the sweeping river had washed away all but the bare foundation, the "island" was of use as the nearest available skating-field in winter, and upon the few days of each year when the ice was there it rang with thousands of steel-blades. But now, with our rinks and skating parks, it is nothing but an unsightly, useless bar, dreaded by the river men, the removal of which would be a vast public benefit.

A NEW YORK journal is urging Fisk, Jr., to take hold of the woman's rights movement, asserting that he is the only salvation for it, and that, with nothing but a few theatres, railways, ferries, steam-packets and gold-rooms to take care of, he would have plenty of time, by a few strategic movements, to transform the drooping movement into a meteoric success, the only danger being that, after he had carried the stock to a high premium, he would sell out and—bear the market.

LADY FRANKLIN, who for so many years hoped for her husband's return from the frozen regions of the north, who watched and waited until there was nothing left for her hope to cling to, and even then managed to keep it alive, seems still to cling to the idea of clearer tidings from the lost explorer. When she heard of the return of Captain Hall, she telegraphed at once "Has Hall brought journals or any writings?" but the implacable cable had no answer to give but the monosyllable "none."

SOME one accounts for the fiery disposition and ungovernable passions which are popularly supposed to especially characterize men of South Carolina. Fire-eating is not what's the matter; it is whisky-sucking. Mothers in South Carolina feed their six-months old babes upon raw whisky, increasing the dose until they become fine old Southern gentlemen and ornaments to their State.

National Banking Act.

It is believed that at the next session of Congress the national banking act will receive a thorough overhauling, and that greater restrictions will be imposed upon the banks. Some of them, especially in the large cities, are known to have violated the act of Congress to such an extent as to warrant the Secretary of the Treasury in taking away their charters. No action, however, will be taken until Congress meets, when the whole question will be opened up by petitions from merchants and others who have suffered from the conduct of the banks in using their funds for speculative purposes.

THE PERILOUS POSITIONS in which exhibitors on the tight-rope and other sensation performers place themselves are frequently paralleled by occurences in real life. Thus recently in Glasgow, a man known as "Steeple Jack," who earns his living by repairing steeples and other high edifices, inaccessible by stairs, ascended to the top of a chimney, 180 feet high, having first established communication by means of a kite and string, and then used a light ladder and slender chain. This apparatus he discovered would not bear his weight in descending, and he was obliged to remain there for an hour and a half at this great height while the heat ascending from the fires below was subjecting him to slow torture. At last he was rescued, a stronger chain having been attached to the weak one, and drawn up by the daring workman. The situation required great presence of mind. As an instance of female ingenuity in times of peril, a similar occurrence is mentioned which took place in Manchester, where a bricklayer, on the top of a high chimney, let fall the rope by which he had ascended. The man's wife, however, was a brave and ready witted woman and having been summoned to the spot screamed to her husband to take off his stocking, one of her own knitting, to unravel it, tie a small piece of brick to the end and let it down to the ground. A strong cord was then attached to the worsted thread and communication was re-established.

—Saturday the annual assemblies of the Masonic grand bodies of Missouri, which have been in session in St. Louis for the past few days, concluded their business. The affairs of the order are represented to be in a very prosperous condition.

A Monument to Adam.

It is reported that the Rev. Charles Rogers, of England, is about to get up a subscription for the erection of a monument to Adam, the father of mankind! A company, to be entitled the "Grand International Adamite Monument Association," is to be formed, and the monument is to be erected upon the supposed site of the Garden of Eden, in Mesopotamia. The expense, no doubt, will be great. It is the custom to make a monument never smaller, and generally much larger, than was the mortal body of the hero whose immortal deeds it is intended to commemorate; and, as there is a well authenticated tradition that Adam was 930 foot high, his monument cannot, in common justice, be less than 1,000 feet in altitude. But it is estimated that a penny subscription from each one of the surviving descendents of this truly great and good man—and it is impossible that one of them should be unwil[illegible]ontribute this small sum—would a[illegible] to pay for the erection [illegible] and leave enough over [illegible] some testimonial for Dr. [illegible] has been the first to suggest that [illegible] time to wipe away "the stigma long attached to humanity for having left the memory of the first hero in its history—a man whose name, fame, actions, death and spiritual influence are constantly on our lips—without commemorative stone to tell the stranger who could appreciate it, what he had done." A great many hard things have been said of Adam; but it should not be forgotton, that we owe him much, and that, with all his faults, he had many virtues. When Dr. Rogers' subscription paper is sent over here, we shall be ready with our penny, and, if he will enlarge his plan so as to include a monument to Eve also, we will be happy to double our subscription.—New York World.

Rapidity of Thought in Dreaming.

A very remarkable circumstance, and an important point of analogy is, says Dr. Forbes Winslow, to be found in the extreme rapidity with which the mental operations are performed, or rather with which the material changes on which the ideas depend are excited in the hemispherical ganglia. It would appear as if a whole series of acts, that would really occupy a long lapse of time, pass ideally through the mind in one instant. We have in dreams no perception of the lapse of time—a strange property of mind; for if such be also its property when entered into the disembodied state, time will appear to us eternity. The relations of space as well as of time are also annihilated, so that while almost an eternity is compressed into a moment, infinite space is traversed more swiftly than by real thought. There are numerous illustrations of this principle on record. A gentleman dreamt that he had enlisted as a soldier, joined his regiment, deserted, was apprehended, carried back, tried, condemned to be shot, and at last led out for execution. After the usual preparations a gun was fired; he awoke with the report, and found that a noise in the adjoining room had, at the same moment, produced the dream and awakened him. A friend of Dr. Abercrombie dreamt that he had crossed the Atlantic, and spent a fortnight in America. In embarking, on his return, he fell into the sea, and awakening in the fright, found that he had not been asleep ten minutes

THOU BRINGEST ME LIFE—LUNG-WORT.

One of the truest and most suggestive ideas can be obtained from the caption at the head of this article; for of all diseases which impair human health and shorten human life, none are more prevalent than those which affect the lungs and pulmonary tissues. Whether we regard lung diseases in the light of a merely slight cough, which is but the fore-runner of a more serious malady, or as a deep lesion corroding and dissolving the pulmonary structure, it is always pregnant with evil and foreboding of disaster. In no class of maladies should the physician or the friends and family of the patient be more seriously forewarned than in those of the lungs, for it is in them that early and efficient treatment is most desirable, and it is then that danger can be warded off and a cure effected. In DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE you have a medicine of the greatest value in all these conditions. An alterative, a tonic, a nutrient and resolvent, succoring nature and sustaining the recuperative powers of the system, Its beautiful workings, in harmony with the regular functions, can be readily observed by the use of one or two bottles: it will soon break up the chain of morbid sympathies that disturb the harmonious workings of the animal economy. The harrassing cough, the painful respiration, the sputum streaked with blood, will soon give place to the normal and proper workings of health and vigor.

An aggregated experience of over thirty years has enabled Dr. Keyser, in the compounding of his LUNG CURE, to give new hope to the consumptive invalid and at the same time speedy relief in those now prevalent, catarrhal and throat affections, so distressing in their effects and so almost certainly fatal in their tendencies, unless cured by some appropriate remedy. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is so thorough and efficient, that any one who has ever used it, will never be without it in the house. It will often cure when everything else fails, and in simple cases will cure oftentimes in a few days.

The attention of patients, as well as medical men is respectfully invited to this new and valuable addition to the pharmacy of the country.

DR. KEYSER may be consulted every day until 1 o'clock P. M. at his Great Medicine Store, 167 Liberty street, and from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 at night.

THE EXHAUSTED SYSTEM.

Summer is a debilitating season, and the sudden change of temperature which takes place at this period of the year finds the healthiest of us considerably enervated by the preceding heat, and the weakly and delicate almost prostrated. This is not a favorable condition in which to encounter the raw winds of October and its chilling fogs and night dews, and consequently intermittant fever, dysintery, billious attacks, and rheumatism are more or less prevalent everywhere, but especially in localities where the atmosphere is naturally unwholesome. In order to avoid the dangers arising from these causes, the exhausted system should now be renovated and invigorated by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This purest and most potent of all vegetable tonics and exhilarants regulates the secretions while it renews the strength, and purifies the fluids of the body, while it gives firmness and vigor to the nervous organization. Free from the unpleasant flavor which renders the ordinary tonics so repulsive, composed of extracts and juices of the choicest vegetable invigorants and correctives, mingled with a diffusive stimulant from which every noxious element has been expelled, this renowned preparation is, in all respects, the very best medicine of its kind that the world has ever known. Such is the opinion of distinguished members of the medical profession, and the general verdict of the public, after an experience of twenty years, during which HOSTETTER BITTERS has attained a greater popularity and a more extensive sale than any specic ever advertised in the columns of the American press.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, October 18, 1869.

The general impression in regard to the recent gold excitement is that manipulations of the gold market are out of the question, and it is generally conceded that the market, if left alone by the Government, will rule about 130 for some time to come, although there are indications pointing to lower gold. The future course of the premium is depending on the outstanding short interest, which, if small will leave plenty of room for a decline, but if a large uncovered interest exists, rapid fluctuations may follow, and 137 would not be too high a point at which the present owners of gold would aim.

Government bonds are inactive, changing scarcely ¼ per cent. for the whole week. From the large offerings to the Government it may be fairly supposed, however, that lower quotations would ensue.

Stocks are strong and have advanced on a more active money market, indicating that a certain short interest exists, which after covering will produce a dull, heavy feeling in all shares. The receipts, however, of some of the Western roads are falling behing those of other years. Unless the canal navigation should prove unfavorable for a late season, little prospect exists for raising the receipts of Western roads, while expenses remain as before.

Business dull and beyond the supply of the day nothing doing.

Money commands from 10 to 15 per cent., according to the grade of the security.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, October 16, 1869.

Events of to-day go to show a change in the speculative spirit in the Stock Exchange. A large rise in Central and Hudson River occasioned much discussion. It is attributed to the belief that the breaks in canals cannot be repaired in season to bring all the grain at Buffalo to New York by water. A general "bull" movement in stocks was the result of this advance. A committee of Lake Shore directors had a session to-day, but made no report. One of them is of the opinion that the Company won't lose over half a million dollars by the Lockwood failure. The creditors of the Gold Exchange bank have determined the best course is to keep all matters in dispute out of court. Some sellers of the three per cent. certificates at a premium were unable to deliver to-day, owing to the scarcity of small greenbacks, which command ¼ per cent premium. Money active at 6@7 per cent.

The bank statement is unexpectedly favorable. The banks hold upwards of $20,000,000 of lawful money above the legal reserve. Loans, $248,857,983; decrease, $2,211,990. Specie, $20,399,070; decrease, $1,114,456. Circulation, $31,217,111; increase, $38,189. Deposits, $178,642,938; decrease, $571,439. Legal Tenders, $53,220,504; decrease, $1,211,916.

Sterling quiet at 9@9¼. Gold quiet and steady; opened at 130 and closed at 130¼@130¼. Carrying rates 3½@6 per cent. At the National Exchange $25,000 of gold was sold out under the rule at 130 for account of Simon Wormser. Exports for the week were $1,010,513.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October, 15 1869.

Business generally has been dull during the past week or two, and it must be confessed that the indications at present for any immediate improvement, are not encouraging. It is true trade should be good at this particular season of the year, particularly the flour and grain business, but with no outlet, no chance for our merchants to sell or make consignments to the east, they are obliged to restrict their operations very materially in consequence.

As we noticed the other day, an effort is being made to have this difficulty fairly and ameiably adjusted, and it is earnestly hoped that it will be successful. A correspondence has been opened up with the proper officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and a committee appointed to take charge of the matter in behalf of Pittsburgh, and it is possible that a satisfactory arrangement may be perfected by which our merchants will be greatly benefited, and the business interests of the city materially advanced. We understand that no reduction is asked on grain, flour and feed etc. etc. bought in the west and sold again in this market; but after it arrives and it is found more advantageous to ship on further east, it is asked and claimed that it should be taken at the through rate, from whatever point it was originally shipped, and thus enable Pittsburgh to complete with the west. That is certainly a fair and reasonable demand, and we cannot see how the railroad company can well refuse to comply with it. If this was done the shipments of the articles referred to, as well as many others, would be largely increased, and the already large revenue received by the Pennsylvania Central Company from Pittsburgh would be very materially increased.

APPLES—The receipts continue light and with a reduced supply, the market is firm and prices well sustained, ranging from $2,00@3,50 per bbl.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged—4@4¼ for Soda, and 9 for Pearls.

BUTTER—Is in rather better supply, and the market is easier, though prices are unchanged—prime to choice Roll, 34@36.

CHESTNUTS—Have still further declined and we now quote at $6,00@6,50 per bushel.

CHEESE—Is steady with regular jobbing sales at 15@18 cts—the outside figure for prime New York Goshen.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands 28½@29 for round lots, and 30@31 in a retail way.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of choice eastern cultivated at $11,50@12 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples are quoted at 9@10 cts. per pound, and Peaches at 10 cts. for bright quarters, and 14c for bright halves.

EGGS—Firm and higher with sales of fresh packed at 25@26.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—Continues dull though unchanged. As there is no chance to ship east, there is a strong competition for local trade, and, as a consequence margins, are very much reduced. Western Winter Wheat brands are still being sold in store at $6,25@6,75, for fair to choice. There is little or no Spring Wheat flour here, and not much inquiry for it.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; sales Red at $1,25, and White at $1,30. Barley comes forward slowly, and this tends somewhat to stiffen the market, as malsters and brewers are getting restless and feel like laying in stocks; quotations may be fairly given at $1,25@$1,35, for fair to choice. Rye is in good supply and dull with but few buyers above $1,00, though prime Penna. and Ohio Rye cannot be bought, as yet, below $1,05. Sale of some 6,000 bushels western reported at $1,00. Oats quiet and unchanged, 47@48, on track, and 50 to 52 in store. Corn is quited at 95 for mixed and $1,00 for prime Yellow—usual advance for small lots in store.

HAY—Sales from country wagons at $15@23—mostly at $15@20.

HUSKS—Sales at 2¾@3 cts per pound.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland white lime at $2@2,25 per bbl.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1, at $1,45@1,48 and No. 2, at $1,05@1,08.

ONIONS—Sales at $2,50@3,00 per bbl, the outside figure for choice.

POTATOES—Sales Peach Blows at 50 cts per bushel. Jersey Sweets have declined to $4,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Market steady with a continued fair jobbing demand but prices unchanged. We now quote shoulders at 17@17¼; Clear Ribbed Sides, 20¼; Clear do, 21; Ribbed, 20; plain Sugar Cured Hams, 23. Lard, in tierces, 20; in half bbls, 20½ in kegs 21. Mess Pork, $33,50.

POULTRY—Sales of chickens at 55 to 65 cents per pair, according to size.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is dull and we now quote at $4,00@4.25. Flaxseed is quoted at $2,35@2,40. No movement in Clover Seed.

SALT—Is firmer, with sales of car load lots at $1,85 per bbl.

STRAW—Sold in Allegheny marl at $12 per ton.

DETROIT, October 16.—Flour active $5,50@6,50; stock remaining on sale 13, bbls. Wheat a shade lower, with ex white at $1,32, No. 1 do $1,15, regu $1,07@1,08, and amber $1.12. Oats Barley weak at $2 per 100

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

The Quinine Plant.

It appears from the Java papers that the Chinchona culture in Java continues to thrive. The report for the second quarter of 1869 gives the total number of plants at 1,032,404, all of the most productive varieties now under culture. Mr. Moens made a chemical examination of twelve specimens of Chinchona bark cut from trees, planted in 1860-63, which can now produce, without damage, about 1,000 kilogrammes of dry bark. The cultivation of Chinchona seems also extending over the East Indian Archipelago, and fourteen heads of provincial Governments have applied for plants, in order to distribute them among the people of mountainous districts. The private plantations at Buitenzorg and in the Preanger Regencies will be enlarged considerably before the next West Monsoon. The Calisaya, Condaminea and Lancifolia varieties are now in blossom, and in a couple of months there will be an abundance of seeds. The Succirubra species, which yields the red bark, deserves particular attention because of its quick and vigorous development. In the oldest plantations formed in 1865—66, this variety has attained a height of three to five metres, with a circumference of trunk of 0.2 to 0.5. A correspondent of the South African Advertizer states that experimental plantations of Chinchona are being made at the Cape of Good Hope with trees received from St. Helena, where a plantation is being made by a gentleman sent out from Kew by the English Government. The species introduced there are as follows: C. Cuccirubra, C. Pahudiana, C. Calisaya and C. Officinalis.

There can be but little doubt that some parts of the Malayan Peninsula would suit one or the other of the varieties, and the Dutch authorities, doubtless, if applied to, would, with their usual courtesy on such matters, contribute seeds and even plants to enable an experiment to be made. H. H., the Maharajah of Johore, who has now commenced the construction of a railway to Gunong Pulai, might hereafter find it to his advantage to form experimental plantations of Chinchona trees of various sorts on some of the highlands on the line of the works, with a view of selecting for after cultivation those which the climate and situation best suited. He would have a great advantage over any private planter, in so far that he could impose stringent rules upon the natives, the plants might be protected from injury and encouraged in early growth. The supplies of quinine are slowly but surely failing, the demand is increasing and the article itself is high in price, and of course likely to be higher. The importance of the subject is not so apparent now as it will be hereafter, but we would do well to take time by the forelock.—From the Straits (India) Times, Aug. 7.

A Nut for the Women's Rights Women to Crack.

The women of 1869 are howling for their rights. I stand ready to hold all their bonnets while they do it; but while the fight is progressing, I want to tell them of a woman who had more reason to howl than we have. I know it is sometimes a great soother to learn such a fact.

I found it out while in Plymouth, Mass., in looking over the old yellow "Church Records" of the Pilgrim Fathers. It seems that one Dorothy Clark, who was "in full communion," was called upon to appear before the church to answer to grave offences committed by her, full evidence of which had been presented to the church. First, her joyning with—I give the original spelling—and encouraging her husband to get Clark's Island from the towne, and at last setting her hand to the sale of it. Second, that she pulled a lad out of one of her trees, and threw him over the fence; whereas she ought first to have told the mother of the child, and not have touched him herselfe; that there was violence in her carriage to the child, and that she must confesse her evill to the church; also she must confess to an untruth; for whereas she said the child came down on his feet, it was ascertained that, on the contrary, he fell flat on the ground. For these things the Church was much displeased with her, and she must immediately prepare by repentance to give them satisfaction. She was then told to go home.

Think of that, ye editresses of "The Revolution!" Think of that, "Sorosis!" Think of that, fair dames of the "Woman's Bureau!" Can't you, one and all, advise your husbands about buying houses and lands, without a permit from the "deacons?" Can't you pull little bad boys out of your own trees without eating "humble pie" before the parson? "Repentance?" I think I see the women of 1869 sitting on the anxious bench for such "grave offences."

But what I want to know is, if the men of that time were overhauled in like manner? I'll bet my best bonnet they were not, or if they were, they cunningly crawled out of some loop-hole or other. I should like to see the amount of "satisfaction" those sacerdotal brethren would have got out of me at such an "inquiry meeting."

FANNY FERN.

Too Many Good Things At Once.

Among the causes of the disturbed condition of the public mind is the condition of the woods. It is a mast year. Farmers were troubled with weighty crops. All signs of failure failed. The wheat turned out handsomely. There was nothing the matter with the rye. The barley came out profusely. Neither the floods nor the drought could put an end to the corn crop; it was proof against all changes of the season and all rumors. Even the oats crop turned out a big thing. The grass was a little parched, but there was enough for hay. Potatoes would not rot, but lumber the ground. Peaches were too much for the trees, and the hogs have rioted in them, so greatly have they overstocked the market. Even the buckwheat bloomed with extraordinary vigor and ripened without accident. Cabbages, pumpkins and turnips litter the land. The fall pasture is extraordinarily good. Every living thing in the country is fat. Right on top of this overbearing aggregate comes the mast year. Acorns, walnuts, beechnuts, butternuts, hazelnuts, hickorynuts and pawpaws overwhelm the woods. All the squirrels, coons and possums in the world, would be insufficient as consumers. How can our agricultural interests withstand such a year of plenty as this? .—Cincinnati Commercial.

Slaughter of the Janissaries.

On a night of June, 1856, the last revolt of the Janissaries took place. They laid out their kettles in imposing array for the last time. Their ranks were speedily reinforced by crowds of miscreants of every hue, who flocked from all parts of the city, in hopes of new plunder, and were led on by the dervishes, who stirred up fanatical spirit by declamations against the infidel customs. They attacked the palace of their Agha, who barely escaped with his life. They sacked his palace and that of the Grand Vezir, and once more the city was in their hands. Sultan Mahmoud at once came to the seraglio from his palace at Beshiktash, on the Bosphorus, and after ordering the whole force of Topjis from Scutari and Tophane to rendezvous in the seraglio grounds, he sent a demand to the rebels to lay down their arms. His demand for surrender was rejected with scorn, and he at once summoned about him the Ulema, who declared the Janissaries to be enemies of the true faith.

With the dawn of day on the 16th the holy flag of the Prophet was brought out from the Treasury, and the Sultan marched his whole force to the Admeidan, where, with a religious service at the mosque of Achmet, the sacred banner was unfurled, and crowds of the faithful began to smell the ranks of the Sultan's retainers. The Janissaries had thrown out pickets towards the seraglio, the line reaching from the Marmora to the Golden Horn; but this line was speedily forced by the advance of troops on all the principal street, and soon all the outlying parties fell back along the great Divan Yol to their barracks at the Etmeidan, where they commenced to fortify themselves, the Bektashee dervishes meanwhile going about among the men to animate them into greater recklessness and fanaticism.

The site of the barracks, and the Etmeidan itself, is now completely covered with houses, but it is laid down on the maps as about half a mile from the landing-wharf of Yeni Kapoo, on the Marmora side of the city. Upon a hill commanding this place the head quarters of the royal troops were fixed near the mosque of Sultan Mahomet, and here new crowds of devoted Moslems rallied to the support of the sacred standard. The Topjis then closed in upon the Etmeidan, meeting but little resistance; and soon the great square was completly surrounded, and artillery was posted upon every commanding eminence, and in all the streets debouching upon the place.

The Janissaries were drawn up in front of their barracks awaiting attack, and sharp shooters from the windows were keeping a gallant fire upon the troops crowded into the streets, when the Sultan sent in one more summons to surrender. The man who bore the message was killed. Then in an instant a hundred cannon opened upon the rebels. Some poured cannister into the ranks marshaled on the square, and others sent shot and shell hurtling through the barracks. Once the Janissaries tried to break through the circle of fire; but the crowds who filled every street drove them back with fearful slaughter, and forced them to take refuge in the barracks. Then all the cannon concentrated upon the huge building such a fire of shell that soon the wretches within began to cry for mercy, for the barracks were on fire. Ah! so had thousands of old men, and wives, and maidens cried to them for mercy in days gone by, and they had shown no mercy. And now there was no one to heed their cries nor to pity them. Not for an instant did the great cannon cease their roar—not for a moment did the muskets cease their rattle, till the massive walls fell in, and the last poor wretch was dead. Not one escaped of those who had stood upon that square to fight against their sovereign.

The rebellion thus terribly crushed out in its first day, work yet remained to be done. There were still thousands of Janissaries scattered through the city. The provinces also were full of them. And when, the next day, a firman was issued abolishing the order, its dress, its passwords, its barracks, and its very name, a panic seized upon all who had been connected with the order. They fled in all directions. Pursued, hunted, outlawed, they went through horrible tortures to remove that fatal but too indelible mark upon the arm which betrayed their secret. The bow-string and the scimeter were everywhere at work. The waters of the Bosphorus ran thick with gashed and mutilated bodies, and the scenes of the capital were repeated throughout the empire, until full 30,000 men had paid the penalty of crime for their corps. And so, among scenes of blood and violence, falls the curtain upon the tragedy of the Janissaries.

Near the Hippodrome in old Stamboul, just in the edge of the mass of ruins and dwarfed houses which marks the path of the great fire of 1866, is a low arched gateway. And if by any chance you are led to enter, you find yourself in a long corridor lined with fierce-looking warriors. In that place, not a hundred yards from the marble mausoleum of the man who destroyed the order, you stand in the presence of the Janissaries as they were two hundred years ago. And these effigies, with perhaps here and there a gray-haired old man with a hideous scar upon his left arm above the elbow—who will tell you, with bated breath in memory of the old horror, that he was once a Janissary—these are all the relics that are left of the power that built up the Turkish Empire.—H, O. Dwight, in Harper's Magazine for November.

THE Croton Aqueduct, as has been mentioned previously, does not furnish the city of New York with a sufficient quantity of water for all purposes, and the Metropolitan Board of Health has been inquiring into the practicability of obtaining a supply of sea water to flush the streets daily and to extinguish fires. The general details of this plan have recently been furnished by the Engineer of the Board of Health, who estimates the cost of constructing the works at $4,000,000, and that the annual expenditure of maintenance would reach the sum of $130,000. The city, according to the plan proposed, would be divided into two districts, each of which is to be furnished with water works, distributing the supply through a special system of iron pipes. The water is to be drawn from the river by gravitation through a brick conduit four feet in diameter, and supplied to a well from which it is to be forced by two steam pumps into a stand pipe four feet in diameter, and over 150 feet high. Each steam pumping engine is to have a daily working capacity of 6,000 gallons per minute, and in case of need 9,000 gallons. The distribution in the lower district will be through 342,650 feet of iron pipe, and in the upper district through 411.755 feet of iron pipe, varying from 24 inches down to 6 inches in diameter.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city for six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2.

Died in Kansas.—Rev. Dr. Eaken, at one time pastor of the Second U. P. Church, this city, died at Topeka, Kansas, on the 30th ult.

Saturday night in Allegheny was very dull, judging from the fact that but three prisoners were found in the lock-up yesterday morning.

Handsome Donation.—Friday last a friend in New York sent to the Trustees of the Western Theological Seminary a donation of twelve hundred dollars.

Alderman Bowden, of Allegheny, acting for Mayor Drum, during his absence, committed three drunks to jail. They subsequently were removed to the work house.

Desertion.—Alderman McMasters, Saturday afternoon, issued a warrant for the arrest of A. A. McGinniss, charged with desertion and abandonment, on oath of his wife, Nora.

Disorderly.—William White was before Alderman Neeper, Saturday, charged with entering the premises of one of his tenants, Annie Williams, and acting in a rude and disorderlym anner. He was held for a hearing.

Roof Burned.—Saturday morning, about eleven o'clock, the roof of a frame dwelling on Ledlie street, Second ward, Allegheny, caught fire from a defective flue. The flames were extinguished and the roof saved with trifling damage.

Franklin Savings Bank Stock at Auction.—This Monday evening, October 18th, at half past seven o'clock, at the auction house, 159 Federal street, Allegheny, ten shares Franklin Savings Bank Stock. A. Leggate, Auctioneer.

Ladies will please remember their favorite resorts for cream candies and taffies, lozenges; roasted and cream almonds and extra fine cream bon bons, at 112 Federal street Allegheny City. George Beaven. 6t

Slight Fire.—Saturday morning about nine o'clock a fire broke out in the bellows manufactory of Davis & Bro., Webster street, Second ward, Allegheny, which however was extinguished before any material damage was done. The steamers were out but did not go into service.

Death of a Prominent Merchant.—Mr. James M. Burchfield, one of our most widely-known dry goods merchants, died yesterday at his residence in Sheffield township, this county. He was universally known and respected, and the announcement of his demise will cause great sorrow in this community.

Thigh Crushed. Jackson Kemp, a boy about ten years old, while playing about the Freight Depot, Pan Handle Railroad Saturday morning fell between two of the cars of a train which was moving, and had his right hip and thigh crushed very seriously. He was attended by Dr. McClelland at his home on Washington street.

Postponed.—The inquest on the body of Mrs. Moore and the child, who were killed on Fifth avenue a few days since, which was to have been concluded Saturday, was necessarily postponed in consequence of the absence of a juror. The jury will meet at the Coroner's office at half past eight o'clock this morning.

Resigned.—Jacob Metz, one of the most efficient policemen on the force, we learn handed in his resignation last evening and has quit the service of the city. We regret the loss of such men as Jacob from the force, but unless policemen are better paid it will be impossible to retain good men in the service of the city in that capacity.

Mayor's Office.—At the Mayor's Sunday morning court, thirty-three unfortunate victims were arraigned, tried and convicted as follows: Sixteen for disorderly conduct, fifteen for drunkenness, and two for vagrancy. Twenty-two of the number paid the required fines and costs, and the remaining eleven were committed in default of payment thereof.

Unsatisfactory Horse Trade.—Saturday afternoon Alderman Neeper received the information of W. S. Steele, against Frederick Quigg, for false pretence. Quigg was charged with disposing of a horse to Steel by representing the animal to be sound in every respect and free from vicious traits,—the reverse subsequently proving to be the case. Quigg was arrested and held for a hearing.

Election Episode.—W. W. Wilson and another individual had an argument a few evenings ago about the election, when a mutual friend, John Welsh, interfered to prevent a fight. He was successful, but got himself into difficulty. Wilson, the next day, Saturday, made information before Alderman Lynch against him for assault and battery. The accused was held for a hearing.

Bad Order.—David Haines was charged before Alderman Mullen, Saturday, with false pretense, the alleged offense consisting in the purchase of a lot of groceries to the amount of ten dollars and thirty cents from F. H. Kirker, grocer, Main street, and presenting an order for payment of the same on Ortleib & Co., which, when presented, turned out to be worthless. Warrant issued.

Pacing Race.—Saturday afternoon a large company of lovers of fast horsemanship gathered at Oakland Park to witness a pacing race between two noted animals, "Sam Hill and "Chicopee." "Sam" was in harnesss, and "Chicopee" under the saddle. The race was mile heats, best three in five, and was won by "Sam," who made the second, third and fourth heats in 2.40, 2.39 and 2.32. The first heat was won by "Chicopee" in 2.40.

The Soldiers' Monument.

The vote on the Soldiers' Monument location was to have been officially announced on Saturday, but the counting was postponed for a week, in order that returns from all the election districts might be obtained. The following summary, however, of those already received, embracing the great majority of the votes cast, exhibits the decision of the question, and indicates that Seminary Hill is hereafter to be adorned with this sacred memorial of our unreturning braves:

New Firm in an Old Place?

We direct attention this morning to the business card of Messrs. F. Repham & Co., who have succeeded Morrow & Barnhill in the proprietorship of the old and favorably known O'Hara Boiler Works, corner of Second avenue and Liberty street. Mr. Repham has had nearly twenty-five years experience in the practical department of the business, and is regarded very universally in this locality, where skilled labor is so well appreciated, as a mechanic with few equals and no superiors in the boiler making and sheet iron working business. He will devote his exclusive attention to the business, and will oversee every job, great or trifling, entrusted to the firm. A full force of careful and experienced hands are employed, and our readers can rest assured that the work awarded Messrs. Repham & Co. will afford the fullest measure of satisfaction. The firm are manufacturers of steam boilers, oil tanks, stills, agitators, salt pans, gasometers, settling pans, prison doors, chimneys, brichen fire beds, &c.

They use nothing but the very best of materials, take especial care with all their work that it may sustain their mechanical reputation, and charge very moderate prices. Repairing will receive careful attention, while orders by mail will be promptly attended. We earnestly commend this new firm in an old place to our readers, and bespeak for them a full share of public patronage.

Our friend, Ernest W. Morrow, Esq., as clever, courteous and obliging a gentleman as can be found, presides over the accounting and business department, where he will be pleased to receive calls from the customers and friends of the late firm of Morrow & Barnhill.

House! House! House! House!—Public sale, to-day at two o'clock, of that good property No. 43 Beech street, Allegheny. Do not fail to attend the sale. You may secure a purchase which will do you a life-long good. A. LEGGATE, Auctioneer.

CATHOLIC.

The Departure for Rome to Participate in the Ecumenical Council of Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, Catholic Bishop of Pittsburgh — Interesting Occasion — The Farewell.

Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, the zealous Catholic Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, will depart this afternoon for Baltimore to join a large party of prelates, who will leave for Rome on Wednesday evening, whither summoned by the Pope to attend the XIXth Ecumenical or General Council of the Church. The intended absence of Bishop Domenec occasions much unfeigned regret on the part of our Catholic friends but all acquiesce in the desire that he shall assist in the deliberations of the great religious body in which the whole civi[illegible]ld will be more or less interested, [illegible]se action will mark an era in modern history. It having been announced that the Bishop would depart so early, on Saturday a few gentlemen of St. Paul's Cathedral made up a purse in order to defray the expenses of the journey to the Holy See—quite a handsome amount in gold—and yesterday afternoon a committee waited upon him at the Episcopal residence and formally presented it, together with a farewell address expressed in neat and beautiful language by Dr. George H. Keyser. The Bishop feelingly replied, expressing his heartfelt gratitude on receiving such a substantial mark of the love, respect and regard of his congregation.

It having been announced that the Bishop would deliver a farewell sermon in St. Paul's Cathedral last night at Vespers, that spacious edifice was crowded to its utmost capacity, fully three thousand persons being present to hear the parting words and receive the parting benediction of a prelate who is almost worshiped by his flock, and deservedly popular with all who know him. At 8 o'clock he entered the pulpit and as he surveyed the vast audience that had turned out to bid him farewell, he was very visibly affected, and it was some time before he regained his usual composure. The occasion must have been pleasing and gratifying to him, and yet full of sorrow, as he could not help thinking that perhaps his eyes would never again rest upon any or many of those before him, for his absence will be long, and should he return, he will find that death has not been idle in the meanwhile among his people. We subjoin from memory a brief abstract of the farewell sermon, which was very eloquent and touching, and made deep impression on all who were present:

The Bishop said that on the eve of his departure for the "Eternal City" to attend the union of the Catholic Bishops of the whole world in General Council, under the shadow of St. Peter's, it was nothing but natural, proper and fitting that he should bid farewell to his flock and explain the object of the visit. The first inquiry addressed is what has taken place, what grave and potent cause has led to the necessity of the drawing together of all the Catholic Bishops of the world to sit in council with the successor of St. Peter, the Soveign Pontiff of the Church at its head? Why must these prelates be called upon to leave their flocks, leave the work in which they are engaged, leave all things and visit Rome to participate in the forthcoming gathering? Is the church in danger? No, it can not be in danger, for Christ has promised to remain with it "even until the consummation of the world," and it never can be placed in jeopardy. In order to intelligently explain why this extraordinary council has been called by the Sovereign Pontiff, who alone has the power to convene it, the speaker proceeded to argue from the fundamental principles of the Church. Christ came to the world and selected the twelve Apostles, instructed them in eternal truths and sent them forth with the Divine injunction "teach ye all nations," and charged that "whosoever heareth you heareth ME" and those who refused to hear were to be as the "heathen and publican." They were instructed together, for it is worthy of special remark, that Christ always addressed his Apostles in the plural, never singly, in leaving his injunctions with them. Then Christ said to Peter: "Thou art a rock and on this rock I will build my Church" and "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Here Peter was created the Visible Head of the Church on earth, the successor of its Divine Founder. What Christ said to His apostles applies to their successors, the Bishops and priests of the Church, and the powers given them are remitted by succession down through eighteen hundred years of time. The church in her councils cannot err in matters of faith for Christ, who is all truth Himself, has been, is, and will forever be with her as He so promised the apostles. Virtually, the first Ecumenical Council was held by the Apostles themselves in the city of Jerusalem, where, under Peter, they assembled to counsel together and take action as to what was to be done to prevent the inroads a wicked and unconverted world was making on Christianity. So great and important an event as an Universal or Ecumenical Council of the Church has occurred rarely in history. Three hundred years and more have elapsed since the last council of this character was held (that of Trent, (1545-1563) and altogether but eighteen since the establishment of the Church, exclusive of the one about to be held.

The Church organization, as you are aware, continued the speaker, is divided into Dioceses, over each of which a Bishop presides. These dioceses are clustered into Provinces—this being the diocese of Pittsburgh and presided over in province by the Archbishop of Baltimore. A Council of a Bishop and his co-laborers, the priests, is called a Diocesan Synod or Council, and is frequently held in order to further the spiritual interests of the members of the Church. A Council of the Bishops of the Province, held triennially, is designated a Province Council. A Council of the Bishops and Archbishops of all the provinces of a nation forms a National Council, while a convening together of all the Bishops of the whole world with the Sovereign Pontiff at the head is the Ecumenical, General or Plenerary Council of the Church which has alone the power of establishing articles of faith that must be accepted. There can be no Encumenical Council without the Pope convenes it and presides over its deliberations and approves its action.

The Bishop said that the objects of the Council had not been fully developed, but the errors of the world will receive attention, abuses will be pointed out, false maxims treated upon, live dangers to society exposed, and such topics as "materialism," which teaches no higher destiny than glory in temporal affairs, "indifferentism" which teaches no regard for any particular form of religion, all being on equal footing, each as good as the other—will doubtless enter into the discussions of the Council. The persecution of the church by her own children will be considered, and, it is hoped, that in other countries the same freedom and liberty will through the Council be made prevail for the church as she enjoys in this.

The Bishop concluded his address in a beautiful manner, bidding his congregation and the diocese an affectionate adieu, and invoking the choicest of Heaven's blessings on all. He would not leave now but it was his duty to do so, and he hoped to be soon again home in the midst of the flock for whom he has labored nine years. He felt safe in leaving the affairs of the diocese to his faithful co-laborers, the clergy, having the fullest confidence in their zeal, ability and fidelity. Invoking the prayers of the congregation for himself while absent, and imparting benediction, the Bishop concluded, leaving many moist eyes among his devoted hearers.

He was serenaded at an early hour this morning by St. Cecelia's Cathedral Brass Band as a parting mark of respect. During his absence Very Rev. Father Hickey will assume his place as acting Bishop of the Diocese,—a very wise and judicious selection, as few gentlemen have more tact, enterprise and executive ability.

The fact that Mr. Humphreys received a lesser number of votes than any of his associates on the Republican Assembly ticket, and that Mr. Heisel leads the Democratic ticket, must be particularly gratifying to the latter individual, as it was the result of a contemptible misrepresentation, for which honorable gentlemen entertain none other than the most profound disgust. We were advised of the effort being made by Mr. Heisel to damage Mr. Humphreys with the German element, and made brief reference thereto, not deeming it of sufficient importance to demand special exposure, and Mr. Humphreys not standing in the remotest danger of defeat.

In the Real Estate Business.

A member of the Allegheny county bar, who has prospered in his business and is possessed with a full share of this world's goods, was, by his desire to increase his worldly portion, swindled out of fifteen hundred or two thousand dollars one day last week, by a young sharper from the country. The story runs thus: The lawyer referred to happened to be in one of the offices of the Court House when a well known real estate agent came in and inquired about a certain piece of property near Perrysville, as to whether there were any mortgages or judgments against it. Finding the property unincumbered, or at least nearly so, the agent returned to his office, where he was shortly afterward visited by the lawyer, who has the reputation of being a sharp financier, and interrogated concerning the property. The agent replied that the owner of the property was a young man and was about to take to himself a companion, who was very wealthy, that he did not have as mush ready cash as would be necessary to defray his wedding expenses, and was desirous of raising $2,000 by mortgaging his property. Subsequently the lawyer met a gentleman prorporting to be the owner of the property, and seeing as he supposed an oportunity for a good investment, agreed to let him have the money and take a mortgage, at what rate of interest we have not been able to ascertain. The deed for the property was produced and the mortgage written and executed, after which the money was paid over to the young man who started immediately for Canada, where he alleged "his prospective bride" resided. The next day the operation did not look so bright to the speculator as at first. It was ascertained that the man who had executed the mortgage was not the owner of the property and had no interest whatever, but that he had played an exceedingly sharp dodge by which he made $2,000. It appears that he was an acquaiutance of the true owner, had access to his room and private papers, and had availed himself of the opportunity to steal the deed for the property, and coming to the city struck a bargain and executed a mortgage in the owner's name adding the crime of forgery to that of larceny. There is talk of a prosecution.

Fierce Assault.

Susan Davidson and Margaret Carlyle occupy jointly a tenement house in Allegheny. Their relations are not, however, of the most pleasant character judging from an information made Saturday afternoon by Margaret before Alderman Neeper against Susan for felonious assault and battery. The parties had some difficulty while Susan was chopping wood in front of the house, when, it is stated, Susan attacked her opponent, first with a billet of wood, and next with a hatchet, inflicting severe injuries. Susan was arrested and compelled to give bail for trial.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The engagement of Mr. Proctor, which closed at the Opera House Saturday evening, was a successful one in every respect, Mr. Proctor not only making many new friends and admirers, but it was a success in a financial point of view. This evening the celebrated drama of "Jessie Brown; or, The Relief of Lucknow," will be presented by the excellent stock company, and to-morrow the Grand English Opera season commences.

PAREPA ROSA.—At the Academy of Music, this evening, Parepa Rosa, with her famed English Opera Company, will make her first appearance in opera in Pittsburgh. The season will extend only over six nights, with one matinee. "Martha" will be presented to-night, in which Madame Parepa Rosa will appear in her unrivalled role as Lady Harriet, with a cast unprecedented in English opera. The great English fair scene will be given complete, representing all the details and incidents of the country fair. This has been pronounced a scenic triumph seldom witnessed. The remaining operas comprise "The Puritan's Daughter," "The Bohemian Girl," "The Black Domino," and "Il Travatore." A grand gala matinee takes place on Saturday.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE—Manager Williams, with a spirit of liberality characteristic of him, has effected an engagement with the Ronalli Troupe, consisting of Mademoisoilles Marie and Cecile Ronalli, the most accomplished, daring and graceful lady gymnasts in the world, and Eugene Ronalli, whose fearlessness has acquired for him the name of "King of the Air." Their engagement commences this evening, on which occasion Miss Belle Williams, the charming vocalist, and Nellie Clifford, the inimitable cantatrice, will make their first appearance in this city.

RICHINGS-BERNARD OPERA TROUPE.—This distinguished company will favor our citizens with a short season, comprising five evenings and one matinee, commencing on to-morrow evening, at the Opera House, when will be produced Flotow's grand opera "Martha." The Directress offers an unexampled array of talent and experience, with a full and efficient chorus and orchestra. The opera announced for the other evenings include "Bohemian Girl," in which the celebrated Tenor, Mr. Henry Haigh, will make his first appearance. "Fra Diavola;" "Faust," on Friday evening for the benefit of Mrs. C. R. Bernard, with Mr. Henry Dravton in his great creation of Mephistocles; and on Saturday "The Crown of Diamonds." Libretti sold at the Opera House will secure the audiences a perfect similitude between the operas as sung and as read. Ecomiums are unnecessary for this Company, whose tour has been so brilliant and whose popularily is so well established. The box sheet is open for any night of the engagement at the office of the Opera House.

Mortuary Report

Dr. Snively, Physician to the Board of Health makes the following report of deaths, and the diseases causing them, for the week commencing October 3d and ending October 10th, 1869.

There were twenty-six deaths, of which 15 were males and 11 females; 24 were white and 2 colored.

Of these 6 were under 1 year: 2 from 1 to 2: 1 from 2 to 5; 4 from 5 to 10: 1 from 15 to 20; 1 from 20 to 30; 3 from 30 to 40; 2 from 40 to 50; 4 from 50 to 60; 1 from 60 to 70, and 1 from 70 to 80.

The diseases were as follows: Accident, burn, cancer, dysentry, typhoid fever, congestive fever, debility, dropsy, pneumonia, cerebral congestion, and convulsions, of each one; angina, enteritis, diarrhea and cholera infautum, of each two: hydrocephalus three, and tuberculosis four.

Colored Festivities Interrupted.

Friday night the colored folks of Temperanceville had a ball at the house of Mrs. Rose Ann Roberts. The festivities went on merrily until the general joy seemed to pervade the atmosphere outside, and seize upon a lot of white roughs, who at once made a raid on the establishment. As a result, the colored folks were driven out and the house taken possession of by the white people, who continued the jubilee until daybreak Saturday morning. One colored damsel during the excitement, disappeared through a third story window and was found, afterwards, on the ground below, unhurt. It is probable that some of our Alderman will reap a harvest of litigation from the "unpleasantness."

Fatal Accident.

Coroner Clawson yesterday held an inquest on the body of John Flinn, a laborer who was killed Saturday evening on the track of the Fort Wayne road, near Washington street, Allegheny. It appears that Flinn and James McHugh were walking on the track together when a train approached, and before they could get out of the way Flinn was struck by the locomotive and instantly killed. The engine, it appears, blew the alarm whistle, and McHugh got off the track and attempted to pull Flinn off, but could not get him out of the way in time. Flinn's back was broken and he died almost instantly. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Slight Fires.

About eleven o'clock Saturday morning there was an alarm of fire from box 51, corner of Wylie and Fulton streets, occasioned by a slight fire in a house occupied by Mr. Charlton, on Hazle street. A bed in the second story caught fire from a defective flue. The engines in the first district were called out. The loss was very trifling.

At twelve o'clock and twenty minutes yesterday morning there was an alarm from box 46, corner of Thirteenth and Pike street, occasioned by a slight fire in a house occupied by Haas & Son, tanners, and an adjoining house. The engines from the third district responded and soon extinguished the flames. Loss eight hundred dollars.

Some Queer Calculations.

Have you not often heard or read statement like this? "The earth has been dug over many times, to bury the millions who have lived on its surface." Do you believe this? If you do, just follow me in a calculation. The present population of the earth is one thousand millions. Now, supposing that at the creation, there were one thousand millions—instead of one pair—and that at the end of thirty years, they died and were buried and their places taken by another one thusand millions, and so on through the six thousand years. This would give a grand total of two hundred thousand (200,000,000,000) millions. Where could this immense and almost inconceivable number be buried? Let us see. The earth's surface is 200,000,000 of square miles. This multiplied by 27,878,400 (the number of square feet to a mile) and the product divided by two hundred million, gives [illegible] and every one brought into [illegible] spectable size [illegible] or nearly 15 feet square.

Not very much crowding or digging over and over again, is there? Decidedly better sized lots than Cedar Hill or Spring Grove affords. If you think I am wrong, go over with the calculation and convince yourself. Another little calculation if you please How much room think you, would the thousand millions now on the earth require to stand up were they all brought together? Figure will tell. Draw a circle ten miles in diameter on some smooth plain, and place a church bell in the center, and every one of the 1,000,000,000 could hear it when struck. Such a circle would give to each of this immense number two square feet—or a space about seventeen inches square. Rather more crowded than a burying-ground, I admit, but still more than enough for the small ones, rather scant, perhaps, for the Lamberts—yet, the whole, a very good average. Do you think such a gathering would be the Hub Jubilee? Perhaps Gilmore will try it. He can do it if anybody can. The only trouble is, Boston does not afford level spot large enough, and of course could never be done anywhere else. Hartford Courant.
